

ROYAL ASCOT

TUESDAY 19TH JUNE TO SATURDAY 23RD JUNE 2012

MEDIA GUIDE

WELCOME TO ROYAL ASCOT FROM HER MAJESTY'S REPRESENTATIVE

May I wish a warm welcome to the world's media in this very special Diamond Jubilee year.

Her Majesty The Queen has owned no fewer than 63 Ascot winners, 20 of them at the Royal Meeting, and it's always a great thrill for everyone when the Royal colours are successful.

It would be marvellous for that to happen this year. We recall the perfect timing in Silver Jubilee year when dual Classic-winning Dunfermline provided tremendous success for The Queen.

As part of the Diamond Jubilee celebrations, we are staging a very special exhibition titled "60 years of Royal Ascot during the Reign of Her Majesty The Queen."

Situated beside the pre-parade ring, this is a photographic commemoration of the Royal Family at Ascot over the past 60 years.

Central to the Royal Meeting is the fact that, on the track, we have the finest programme of races anywhere in the world. We have increased our prize money this year by £715,000 and now offer £4.5 million across the 30 races of the five-day meeting. None of the races are worth less than £55,000. Two of our races offer prize money of £500,000 each.

We have renamed The Golden Jubilee Stakes. From this year it is The Diamond Jubilee Stakes and with prize money of £500,000 it is Britain's most valuable sprint race. Royal Ascot's two legs of the Global Sprint Challenge, The King's Stand Stakes on Tuesday and The Diamond Jubilee Stakes on Saturday, will again feature a truly cosmopolitan field of runners.

We are delighted that Royal Ascot is now so firmly on the itinerary of top-class horses from around the world.

All seven of the Group One championship races run at Royal Ascot are part of the QIPCO British Champions Series, which is now in its second year and has provided a compelling new element to the British racing programme. The series culminates at Ascot with QIPCO British Champions Day on Saturday, October 20.

But this week is all about celebrating Britain's pinnacle of summer racing.

I hope you have a wonderful time with us.

2012 PRIZE MONEY RAISED TO £4,500,000

The total Prize Fund for this year's Royal Meeting will be £4,500,000, an increase of £715,000 on 2011 values.

The Prince of Wales's Stakes, being run this year as "The 150th Anniversary of The Prince Of Wales's Stakes," and The Diamond Jubilee Stakes, will both be run for £500,000, an increase of £100,000 in each instance.

The Queen Anne Stakes, Gold Cup and King's Stand Stakes will be worth £350,000 this year, representing increases of £100,000 for the first two named and £50,000 for the latter.

The Hardwicke Stakes has doubled in value to £200,000 and there will be no penalties to be carried by Group One or Two winners this year.

The King Edward VII Stakes will be run for £150,000 (£140,000 in 2011); The Ribblesdale Stakes will be run for £125,000 (£100,000 in 2011); The Wokingham and Royal Hunt Cup Handicaps will be run for £125,000 (£100,000 in 2011); The Buckingham Palace Handicap will be run for £75,000 (£50,000 in 2011) and The Duke of Edinburgh Handicap will be run for £70,000 (£50,000 in 2011).

In addition, £5,000 has been added to the value of seven races previously run for £50,000, to increase the minimum prize money at the meeting to £55,000.

Charles Barnett, Chief Executive at Ascot, said:

"In an increasingly competitive international environment, it is crucial for Europe's flagship race meeting to invest in prize money and we are delighted to have made a near 20 per cent increase to last year's total Prize Fund in this respect.

"At Group One level, we have increased the value of the races which historically attract interest from around the world and those that we feel have the most scope to do so in the future.

"The Hardwicke is a race that we are very keen to build as it comfortably achieves Group One ratings on a regular basis. In order to attract Group One and Group Two winners further, the penalties have been removed and the race has doubled in value.

"Ensuring that the whole Royal Ascot programme on a domestic level moves forward is as important as investing in the Pattern races, and we have increased the value of several handicaps, including the flagship Royal Hunt Cup and Wokingham."

TELEVISION COVERAGE

The first five races from Tuesday to Friday and the first four on Saturday will be covered on BBC Television on the BBC HD channel and across BBC1 and BBC2 as detailed on the following page. All 36 races are also shown live on At The Races. Through BBC Worldwide and GBI Racing, pictures from Royal Ascot are distributed to approximately 200 countries.

ASCOT ON THE INTERNATIONAL STAGE AND THE GLOBAL SPRINT CHALLENGE

Ascot is home to Europe's premier race meeting, Royal Ascot; to Europe's mid-summer middle distance championship, the £1-million King George VI & Queen Elizabeth Stakes (sponsored by Betfair, July); to the Dubai Duty Free Shergar Cup (August), a unique international jockeys' team event; and to the culmination of the European season, the £3-million QIPCO British Champions Day (October).

Considered the standard-bearer for international racing within Europe, Ascot actively seeks to strengthen its programme through the participation of horses from all around the world.

The racecourse has welcomed runners from Australia, New Zealand, America, Hong Kong, Japan, South Africa and all over Europe in recent years, none higher profile and more ground-breaking than Choisir, who landed the King's Stand Stakes/Golden Jubilee Stakes double for Australia in 2003, paving the way for wins for compatriots Takeover Target, Miss Andretti and Scenic Blast.

In 2005, Ascot set up a sprinting series, the Global Sprint Challenge, with Racing Victoria and the Victoria Racing Club in Australia and the Japan Racing Association. The Hong Kong Jockey Club, Newmarket Racecourses, the Singapore Turf Club and the Dubai Racing Club have subsequently joined and the series now numbers 10 races from February to December.

Since the inauguration of the Global Sprint Challenge, 40 horses trained outside Europe have lined up in the two sprints at Royal Ascot. In 2005, The King's Stand Stakes was worth £140,000 and The Diamond Jubilee Stakes £250,000. Both have increased significantly in value to reflect their growing international significance and The Diamond Jubilee Stakes now has prize money of £500,000, with The King's Stand Stakes valued at £350,000.

With £400,000 on offer for the Darley July Cup, the third European leg of the Challenge, there is well over £1 million available for the world's top sprinters across the three UK legs.

A US$ £1-million bonus pool is available to the connections of any horse which wins three challenge legs in three different countries.

AUSTRALIA'S LEADING LADIES HEADLINE INTERNATIONAL CAST

Black Caviar (Peter Moody), with The Diamond Jubilee Stakes her target, heads the international cast for this year's Royal Meeting. Compatriot, Ortensia (Paul Messara), arrived in the UK shortly after winning the Al Quoz Sprint in Dubai and she is being aimed at The King's Stand Stakes.

Such is the unprecedented interest in Black Caviar's first overseas trip at home that The Diamond Jubilee Stakes will be shown live on a big screen in Federation Square in Melbourne, even with the race going off after midnight Australian time.

The first four home in Dubai's 5f Group One Turf Sprint on World Cup night, the Al Quoz, are all on target for The King's Stand Stakes, including third placed Joy And Fun (Derek Cruz), for Hong Kong. Also on track for the sprint on 19th June for Hong Kong is Little Bridge (Danny Shum), who split Joy and Fun and Japanese champion Curren Chan when fourth in the Hong Kong Sprint in December. Little Bridge has won both the Bauhinia Sprint Trophy and Sprint Cup at home this season.

Bahrain-trained Krypton Factor (Fawzi Nass), winner of the Dubai Golden Shaheen on World Cup night before disappointing on unsuitable ground in Singapore, will lock horns with Black Caviar in The Diamond Jubilee Stakes.

No one from the United States has supported Royal Ascot more loyally than Ken Ramsey, whose famous red and white silks came so close to victory with Cannonball in the 2009 Golden Jubilee Stakes.

Ramsey has a strong team on course for Royal Ascot, with the star name amongst them the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies Turf winner, Stephanie's Kitten (Wayne Catalano), who is firmly on course for The Coronation Stakes following a recent Grade Two victory at Churchill Downs.

Ramsey is also set to be represented by Big Blue Kitten (Chad Brown) in The Prince of Wales's Stakes; Hyper (Chad Brown) in The Wolferton Stakes; Sisterhood (Wesley Ward) in The Sandringham Stakes and Redwood Kitten and Emotional Kitten (both Wesley Ward) in The Chesham Stakes.

Wesley Ward, who has trained two Royal Ascot winners, is also planning on running Allaboutcaroline, owned by Team Valor, in The Queen Mary Stakes and Undrafted, owned by star New England Patriots receiver, Wes Welker, in the Norfolk Stakes.

The American horses are being stabled in Epsom with Jim Boyle whilst the remainder are being housed in Newmarket.

(Note: Ken Ramsey also owns Real Solution, trained in Italy by Gianluca Bietolini, who is being aimed at The King Edward VII Stakes).

QIPCO TO BACK ROYAL ASCOT TOP JOCKEY AND TRAINER AWARDS

QIPCO, sponsors of the British Champions Series, which culminates in QIPCO British Champions Day on 20th October, are the sponsors of the coveted top jockey and top trainer awards at Royal Ascot this year.

Trophies for the “QIPCO Royal Ascot Top Jockey” and “QIPCO Royal Ascot Top Trainer” awards will be presented on the final day of the meeting to the jockey and trainer amassing the most wins during the week, with places counted back in the event of a tie.

Last year’s winners were Ryan Moore and Aidan O’Brien.

QIPCO British Champions Day is the richest day’s racing in Britain at £3 million and features the £1,300,000 Champion Stakes, £1,000,000 Queen Elizabeth II Stakes, £250,000 British Champions Sprint Stakes, £250,000 British Champions Fillies & Mares Stakes and the £200,000 British Champions Long Distance Cup - all sponsored by QIPCO.

The championship day, along with the QIPCO British Champions Series, now in its second year, is aimed at broadening the appeal of the sport.

There are five series race categories. Four categories are by race distance - Middle Distance, Mile, Sprint and Long Distance. Mindful of the fact that with Britain’s fillies and mares programme so strong following an intensive development of their Pattern, a separate Fillies and Mares category operates.

The Series includes all the major meetings leading up to QIPCO British Champions Day.

Royal Ascot, with all seven Group One races designated to their appropriate categories, will play a part in the series along with the King George in July.

The Royal Ascot races included are: The Queen Anne Stakes (mile); The King’s Stand Stakes (sprint); The St James’s Palace Stakes (mile); The Prince of Wales’s Stakes (middle distance); The Gold Cup (long distance); The Coronation Stakes (fillies and mares) and the Diamond Jubilee Stakes (sprint).

Along with 24 of 30 races at Royal Ascot and four on King George Day, all five QIPCO British Champions Day races will be shown live on BBC television this year.

Sectional timing from TurfTrax is to be rolled out across almost two-thirds of the 35 Series races in 2012 in a joint deal between QIPCO British Champions Series and the four individual racecourses involved – Ascot, Goodwood, Newmarket, and York.

In total, 19 racedays will be covered, including all five days of Royal Ascot, and timings will be provided for all 30 races at the Royal Meeting.

Frankie Dettori and Hayley Turner are the 2012 jockey ambassadors for the QIPCO British Champions Series.

VETERINARY FACILITIES, EQUINE & JOCKEYS' WELFARE

The safety and welfare of horses and jockeys is paramount throughout the year at Ascot and nowhere is this better demonstrated than in the changes made to the racing surface itself during the redevelopment (Ascot reopened in 2006).

The key elements of the project were to camber the home and old paddock bends and, crucially, to remove the road crossings over the track, replacing them with underpasses.

This has created a safer race track for the horses, where previously some less experienced runners had occasionally shied at the differing surfaces.

Four specifically qualified equine vets, led by Senior Veterinary Surgeon, Svend Kold, are on duty every race day at Ascot, dedicated to the welfare of all the horses.

During each race, vets follow the runners by car and can respond to and attend a casualty generally within a minute - as fast as the paramedic teams responsible for human casualties.

There are two equine ambulances on course at all times and three ambulances for any incidents involving injuries to jockeys.

Ascot's two permanent veterinary boxes are supplemented with an X-Ray machine for the major meetings to assist with swift diagnosis before administration of treatment on site or any movement necessary to equine hospitals.

The state-of-the-art jockeys' facilities at Ascot include a medical treatment room, rest rooms and a dedicated room for physiotherapy.

During Royal Ascot, there are four doctors on site, led by Senior Racecourse Medical Officer, Dr Roger Gould, specifically to deal with any jockey injuries.

RESERVES AT ROYAL ASCOT

Reserves will be declared at the 48-hour stage for all Royal Ascot eligible handicaps. Up to three reserves can replace non-runners any time up to 9am the day before the race.

Eligible races are The Royal Hunt Cup, The Britannia, The King George V, The Buckingham Palace, The Wokingham and The Duke of Edinburgh handicaps.

ASCOT STALWARTS DEPART

Two longstanding members of the Racing Department will leave Ascot this year. Gilly Gilford has been Head Groundsman since March, 1996 and retires after Royal Ascot, whilst Kevin Maguire has been Stables Manager from October, 1982 and retired in early May.

THE QUEEN AND ROYAL ASCOT

With the racecourse decked in no less than four kilometres of bunting, nowhere will the country's passion and admiration for the Royal Family in this Diamond Jubilee year be more obviously and enthusiastically celebrated than at Royal Ascot.

The question on everyone's lips will be: Will The Queen have a Royal Ascot winner to add to the 20 that have gone before?

The Queen's last winner came on the final day of Royal Ascot 2008 when Free Agent came from a seemingly impossible position to win The Chesham Stakes, ending a blank period stretching back to 1999. Go to page 98 for a full list of The Queen's Royal Ascot winners.

The Queen's involvement with racing began in 1952 and her first winner, Monaveen, owned jointly with her mother, came in a humble Fontwell jumps race.

On the death of her father, King George VI, The Queen inherited the Royal string of Flat horses, which at the time were mainly trained by Cecil Boyd-Rochford and Noel Murless. It didn't take long for her first top horse to come along.

Aureole, by the great Hyperion, was second to Pinza in the 1953 Derby and he must rank as one of The Queen's best horses, with victories in the 1954 King George VI & Queen Elizabeth Stakes and Hardwicke Stakes. Aureole went on to be champion sire in Britain.

The Queen's first Royal Ascot success came when Choir Boy landed the 1953 Royal Hunt Cup, one of 11 successes during the 1950s, with others including 1957 Ribblesdale Stakes winner Almeria, who went on to finish second in the King George, and Pall Mall, who took the 1957 New Stakes en route to victory in the 2,000 Guineas the following year.

The 1960s were a quieter time for the Royal thoroughbreds, although Aiming High landed the 1961 Coronation Stakes and Hopeful Venture the 1968 Hardwicke Stakes.

But The Queen's racing fortunes entered another golden period in the 1970s, helped by the brilliant Dick Hern-trained filly Highclere, who won the 1,000 Guineas and French Oaks in 1974 before finishing second to Dahlia in that year's King George.

As Silver Jubilee celebrations were being held throughout the land in 1977, a filly came along that would ensure a year of tremendous success for the Royal colours, with Dunfermline winning both the Oaks and St Leger.

The Queen has not since had another Dunfermline but there have been successes, including Colour Sergeant in the 1992 Royal Hunt Cup, Phantom Gold in the 1995 Ribblesdale Stakes and Blueprint in the 1999 Duke of Edinburgh Stakes.

Having had a Silver Jubilee Royal Ascot winner, The Queen missed out in Golden Jubilee year, 2002, but hopes are high for success in 2012, not least through her 2011 Derby third, Carlton House, who is entered in the Prince of Wales's Stakes and reappeared with victory in the Brigadier Gerard Stakes at Sandown in May.

JOHNNY WEATHERBY TAKES REINS AS HER MAJESTY'S REPRESENTATIVE

The Duke of Devonshire stood down as Her Majesty's Representative and Senior Trustee at Ascot following last year's Royal Meeting and Her Majesty The Queen appointed Johnny Weatherby as his successor. He is the fifth person to hold the position during her reign.

Johnny Weatherby, a Trustee at Ascot since 1997, has been Chairman of Ascot Authority (Holdings) Limited since 2008. He is also Chairman of the Weatherbys group of companies.

Ascot has three Trustees and last year The Queen appointed Sir Francis Brooke Bt, to serve alongside Johnny Weatherby and Mark Davies (an Ascot Trustee since 2002), following the Duke's retirement.

Sir Francis Brooke is a Director and Senior Fund Manager at Troy Asset Management Ltd. His family has been involved for many years in the breeding, owning and training of racehorses.

From 1711 until 1901, the administration of Ascot was undertaken by the Master of the Buckhounds. Charles Crompton William Cavendish, 3rd Baron Chesham, was the last person to hold the role which was superseded by the position of His Majesty's Representative on the accession of King Edward VII.

STARS OF STAGE, SCREEN AND SPORT TO PRESENT TROPHIES

Famous names from the world of sport and entertainment will join members of the Royal Family and the racing fraternity in presenting trophies to winning owners during Royal Ascot.

Fittingly, in this Olympic year, sporting greats such as Sir Roger Bannister, Sally Gunnell, Colin Jackson and Sir Steve Redgrave will all be presenting, along with Formula 1 driver, Jenson Button; golfer, Lee Westwood; Wimbledon Singles Champion, Virginia Wade and former cricket commentator Henry Blofeld.

Notable faces from the entertainment world, including Katherine Jenkins, Michael McIntyre, Robson Green, David Walliams and Lara Stone, will also be presenting trophies during the week, together with Edward Parker, the co-founder of Walking with the Wounded.

This UK charity funds both the retraining and re-education of wounded servicemen and women and stages extreme expeditions to illustrate the extraordinary determination and courage of our injured.

NEW ROYAL ENCLOSURE AND GRANDSTAND DRESS CODE

In January, the new dress code for Royal Ascot, which has been designed with assisting visitors to this very special occasion in mind, was announced.

Subsequently, Style Guides for both main enclosures, aimed at bringing the wording to life, have been distributed to badge and ticket holders.

The Style Guides can be viewed at:

Royal Enclosure: <http://www.ascot.co.uk/go/rencstyle>

Grandstand Admission: <http://www.ascot.co.uk/go/gastyle>

Royal Ascot is a unique, stand alone event in the sporting and social calendar and dressing accordingly is part of the experience.

Whilst the spirit of the dress code has always reflected this, the letter of it has arguably lacked clarity, leading in some cases to misunderstanding of what constitutes appropriate attire for this formal occasion.

It is hoped that visitors to the Royal Enclosure and Grandstand will find the new wording of assistance when selecting their outfits for Royal Ascot.

The headline points are:

Royal Enclosure – Ladies:

“Dresses and skirts should be of modest length defined as falling just above the knee or longer.” This replaces the less clear instruction that miniskirts are considered unsuitable.

“Hats should be worn; a headpiece which has a base of 4 inches (10cm) or more in diameter is acceptable as an alternative to a hat.” This clarifies that fascinators are no longer permitted in the Royal Enclosure.

Royal Enclosure – Gentlemen:

“Gentlemen are kindly reminded that it is a requirement to wear either black or grey morning dress which must include a waistcoat and tie (no cravats), a black or grey top hat and black shoes.” This clarifies that cravats are not acceptable and that black shoes should be worn with morning dress.

Grandstand Enclosure – Ladies:

“A hat, headpiece or fascinator should be worn at all times.” This replaces advice that many ladies wear hats but this is not compulsory.

“Strapless or sheer strap dresses and tops are not permitted.” This, and several other points, illustrate better what is meant by the previous guidance that ladies are required to dress in a manner appropriate to a smart occasion.

Grandstand Enclosure – Gentlemen:

“Gentlemen are required to wear a suit and tie.” This replaces the instruction that gentlemen must wear a shirt and tie, preferably with a suit or jacket.

Charles Barnett, Chief Executive at Ascot, said:

“We have worked extensively with experts in the world of fashion to define better what formal dress means, with the overarching intention of being as helpful as possible to our visitors and assisting everyone in understanding what is expected and, we believe, cherished about the dress code at Royal Ascot.

“It isn’t a question of elitism and not being modern in a world where there is less and less requirement to dress smartly – far from it. We want to see modern and stylish dress at Royal Ascot, just within the parameters of formal wear, and the feedback we have received from our customers overwhelmingly supports that.”

Dolly Jones, Editor of Vogue.com, commented:

“I love Royal Ascot – we’ve covered the fashion there for years on VOGUE.COM, often with films presented by great milliners including Stephen Jones and Philip Treacy. I think a clarification of the dress code will raise the bar even higher.”

Sarah Harris, Fashion Features Editor, Vogue added:

“Royal Ascot is one of the most prestigious events of the season and improving the dress code wording will ensure that the event remains iconic and a strong part of the fashion calendar.”

2012 FULL DRESS CODE

A day at Royal Ascot is very special and dressing accordingly is an important part of the experience. The dress code set out below is designed to help racegoers to dress appropriately for the occasion. Please note that a different dress code applies for each enclosure.

ROYAL ENCLOSURE

Ladies

Ladies are kindly reminded that formal day wear is a requirement in the Royal Enclosure, defined as follows:

- Dresses and skirts should be of modest length defined as falling just above the knee or longer.
- Dresses and tops should have straps of one inch or greater.

- Jackets and pashminas may be worn but dresses and tops underneath should still comply with the Royal Enclosure dress code.
- Trouser suits are welcome. They should be of full length and of matching material and colour.
- Hats should be worn; a headpiece which has a base of 4 inches (10cm) or more in diameter is acceptable as an alternative to a hat.

Ladies are kindly asked to note the following:

- Strapless, off the shoulder, halter neck, spaghetti straps and dresses with a strap of less than one inch (2.5cm) are not permitted.
- Midriffs must be covered.
- Fascinators are no longer permitted in the Royal Enclosure; neither are headpieces which do not have a base covering a sufficient area of the head (4 inches / 10cm).

Gentlemen

Gentlemen are kindly reminded that it is a requirement to wear either black or grey morning dress which must include:

- A waistcoat and tie (no cravats)
- A black or grey top hat
- Black shoes

A gentleman may remove his top hat within a restaurant, a private box, a private club or that facility's terrace, balcony or garden. Hats may also be removed within any enclosed external seating area within the Royal Enclosure Garden.

The customisation of top hats (with, for example, coloured ribbons or bands) is not permitted in the Royal Enclosure.

Children (admitted on Friday and Saturday only)

Girls (aged 10-16) should be dressed for a formal occasion. Smart summer dresses are suggested. Hats, headpieces or a fascinator may be worn but are not compulsory.

Boys (aged 10-16) should either dress in accordance with the gentlemen's dress code (as set out above); or alternatively may wear a dark-coloured lounge suit with a shirt and tie (whereupon no hat is required).

Overseas Visitors

Overseas visitors are welcome to wear the formal National Dress of their country or Service Dress.

Serving Military Personnel

Serving military personnel are welcome to wear Service Dress or equivalent.

GRANDSTAND ADMISSION

Ladies

Ladies within the main Grandstand enclosure are encouraged to dress in a manner as befits a formal occasion.

Ladies are kindly asked to take particular note of the following:

- A hat, headpiece or fascinator should be worn at all times.
- Strapless or sheer strap dresses and tops are not permitted.
- Trousers must be full length and worn with a top that adheres to the guidelines above (i.e. strapless or sheer strap tops are not permitted).
- Jackets and pashminas may be worn but dresses and tops underneath should still comply with the Grandstand Admission dress code.
- Midriffs must be covered.
- Shorts are not permitted.

Gentlemen

Gentlemen are required to wear a suit with a shirt and tie.

Children

Girls (17 or under) should be dressed for a formal occasion. Smart summer dresses are suggested. Hats, headpieces or a fascinator may be worn but are not compulsory.

Boys aged (13-17) should wear a suit or jacket with a shirt and a tie. Younger boys (12 or under) should be dressed smartly but are not required to wear a jacket or tie.

General

All Royal Enclosure compliant attire, as defined in this document, is welcome in the Grandstand.

SILVER RING

Whilst we encourage racegoers to wear smart clothes, no formal dress code applies in the Silver Ring except that replica sports shirts are not permitted.

GENERAL

In addition to the specific guidance in this document, please note that fancy dress, novelty and branded / promotional clothing are not allowed on site.

Ascot Racecourse recognises that there may be instances where a degree of discretion is required in determining compliance with our dress code. In such instances, reasonable judgement will be exercised.

FOR INFORMATION, BELOW IS THE 2011 DRESS CODE IN FULL

ROYAL ENCLOSURE

Her Majesty's Representative wishes to point out that only formal day dress with a hat or substantial fascinator will be acceptable. Off the shoulder, halter neck, spaghetti straps and dresses with a strap of less than one inch and miniskirts are considered unsuitable. Midriff must be covered and trouser suits must be full length and of matching material and colour.

Gentlemen are required to wear either black or grey morning dress, including a waistcoat, with a top hat. A gentleman may remove his top hat within a restaurant, a private box, a private club or that facility's terrace, balcony or garden. Hats may also be removed within any enclosed external seating area within the Royal Enclosure Garden.

Children between the ages of 10-16 years inclusive are welcome to attend the Royal Enclosure on the Friday and Saturday of the Royal Meeting, providing they are accompanied by a Royal Enclosure badge-holder. Children's badges are free of charge and can be collected on the Friday and Saturday of the Royal Meeting from the Royal Enclosure enquiry offices. It is not necessary to submit a child's name prior to the Royal Meeting. Girls must wear a modest dress or skirt, boys a suit or jacket and smart trousers with a tie. Jeans and trainers are not permissible.

Children under the age of 10 are not permitted in the Royal Enclosure.

Overseas visitors are welcome to wear the formal national dress of their country or Service dress.

Ladies and Gentlemen not complying with the above dress regulations will be asked to leave the Royal Enclosure and will be relieved of their Royal Enclosure badge.

GRANDSTAND

Ladies are required to dress in a manner appropriate to a smart occasion. Many wear hats but this is not compulsory. Gentlemen in Grandstand Admission must wear a shirt and tie, preferably with a suit or jacket. Gentlemen are respectfully reminded to keep their tie on at all times. Sports attire, jeans and shorts are strictly forbidden.

SILVER RING

Whilst we encourage racegoers to wear smart clothes no formal dress code applies except that bare chests are not permitted at any time.

FASHION AT ROYAL ASCOT BROUGHT TO YOU BY VOGUE TV

This year, for the first time, Ascot TV is exclusively partnering with the much respected “Vogue TV,” fronted by Martha Ward, to bring racegoers all the fashion news from the Royal Meeting.

An outlet of the prestigious Vogue.co.uk, Vogue TV will be providing a daily programme of fashion highlights, exclusive interviews and an insight into the world of fashion, featuring appearances from the UK’S top fashion journalists, designers and celebrities.

Vogue TV host, Martha Ward, is at the forefront of UK fashion, as both a stylist and industry expert. She has worked with the most prolific names in the UK fashion and entertainment industries and her expertise and eye for style is unparalleled.

The fashion highlights from Vogue TV will be shown each evening on Vogue.co.uk

Ascot TV will broadcast from 11am to 6pm every day at the Royal Meeting with Gerry Morrison, former Senior Racing Producer for the BBC and this year, Main Director for the Olympic Games Equestrian coverage, at the helm for the fifth year running.

The on screen team will be led by Ascot’s regular front man, Rupert Bell, who is also Talksport’s racing correspondent.

Bell will be joined once again by Aly Rowell, who will co-present the racing coverage and also focus on all of the sights and sounds of this unique event. Rowell has made a significant impact in sports broadcasting recently, and has quickly become established in TV and radio. Last year she co-hosted racing’s prestigious Derby Awards in London.

The international flavour of the event will be captured by multilingual journalist and broadcaster, Liz Price, who will be on hand to talk to connections of French, German, Italian and Spanish horses, providing on the spot translations where necessary both for Ascot TV and during press conferences.

The core team will be completed by Mike Vince, who will be describing the Royal Procession each day in this Diamond Jubilee year. Mike’s inimitable style and tireless research on the visiting guests and dignitaries will once again supply racegoers with all they need to know about those arriving in the Royal Procession.

The well known racing and football commentator will also be providing pre-race paddock commentaries and sharing duties with the BBC’s Clare Balding in announcing the victorious horses as they return to the winners’ enclosure.

Ex-BBC betting correspondent, Angus Loughran, and former Victor Chandler PR man, Neal Wilkins, will act as betting experts for Ascot TV.

ASCOT - ITS HISTORY AND TRADITIONS

It was Queen Anne who first saw the potential for a racecourse at Ascot, which in those days was called East Cote. Whilst out riding in 1711, she came upon an area of open heath, not far from Windsor Castle, that looked an ideal place for “horses to gallop at full stretch.”

The first race meeting ever held at Ascot took place on Saturday, August 11, 1711. Her Majesty’s Plate, worth 100 Guineas and open to any horse, mare or gelding over the age of six, was the inaugural event. Each horse was required to carry a weight of 12st and seven runners took part.

This contest bore little resemblance to racing seen at Ascot today. The seven horses were all English Hunters, quite different to the speedy thoroughbreds that race on the flat now.

The race consisted of three separate heats which were four miles long (each heat was about the length of the Grand National), so the winner would have been a horse with tremendous stamina. Sadly, there is no record of the winner of the first Plate.

The racecourse was laid out by William Lowen, who was assisted by a team of helpers; William Erlybrown, a carpenter, Benjamin Cluchett, a painter, and John Grape, who prepared the paperwork for racing. The first permanent building was erected in 1793 by George Slingsby, a Windsor builder. It held 1,650 people and was used until 1838.

In 1813, Parliament passed an Act of Enclosure. This Act ensured that Ascot Heath, although the property of the Crown, would be kept and used as a racecourse for the public in the future. Racing at Ascot was now secure.

The precise origin of the Royal Meeting is unclear. It was an event that evolved, perhaps, rather than was introduced at a specific time, but the first four-day meeting took place in 1768. Arguably, the meeting as we know it today started to take shape with the introduction of the Gold Cup in 1807.

Gold Cup Day is the third day of Royal Ascot. Although you won’t find it in any marketing or promotional literature, Thursday is colloquially known as Ladies’ Day.

The term Ladies’ Day seems to have been first used in 1823, when an anonymous poet described the Thursday of the Royal Meeting as ‘Ladies’ Day, when the women, like angels, look sweetly divine.’ In the formative years, Thursday was certainly the dominant day in terms of the racing, attracting the largest crowds and, it must be assumed from the emergence of the term, more ladies!

Almost every racecourse markets a Ladies’ Day now, but the great charm of the original is that it has evolved rather than been created. It is the public, not the racecourse, who call it Ladies’ Day.

The Gold Cup is Ascot’s oldest surviving race, and the winning owners receive a gold trophy which becomes their property. Perpetual trophies are only awarded for three races at the Royal Meeting, the other two being The Queen’s Vase, inaugurated in 1838 to commemorate Queen Victoria's accession, and The Royal Hunt Cup (1843). For all other races, Challenge trophies are awarded, which are returned to Ascot and presented each year.

It was at around the time of the first running of The Gold Cup that the roots of today's traditional Royal Enclosure dress code emerged.

Beau Brummell, a close friend of the Prince Regent, decreed that men of elegance should wear waisted black coats and white cravats with pantaloons. Over the years, this has evolved into the wearing of morning suits and equally formal clothes for ladies, who must wear hats.

Although a Royal Stand dates back to the 1790s, the Royal Enclosure that current regulars are used to at Ascot was born in 1822 when King George IV commissioned a two-storey stand to be built with a surrounding lawn. Access was by invitation of the King.

In 1825, the Royal Procession as an annual tradition began. The King, leading four other coaches with members of the Royal party, drove up the centre of the racecourse in front of the crowds and this has continued to the present day.

The administration of Ascot has always been handled by a representative appointed by the Monarch. The racecourse was run on behalf of the Sovereign by the Master of the Royal Buckhounds up until 1901 when Lord Churchill was appointed as the first official Representative of His Majesty, a post held today by the Duke of Devonshire.

In 1913, when the Ascot Authority was established by an Act of Parliament, His Majesty's Representative became Senior Trustee of the Authority with the Clerk of the Course acting as Secretary. Today, as Ascot Authority (Holdings) Limited, Ascot has a formal board comprising the Chief Executive, the General Manager and the Finance Director (from the executive team), supported by a Chairman, Her Majesty's Representative and a further trustee and non-executive director.

In 1955, the rules of divorce were relaxed and divorcees were able to enter the Royal Enclosure. However, a redevelopment of the Enclosure shortly before this had added the new Queen's Lawn, which was by invitation and the Court rules governing divorce still applied.

Ascot's first major redevelopment came to fruition in 1954, with the relocation of the straight mile north to allow more space behind the stands. This was the second such move and even this time around, they didn't go quite far enough as the track was moved a further 42 metres north as part of the recent redevelopment! Prior to the second move, the straight track cut right through the existing Number One Car Park into the current site of Heatherwood Hospital.

The Queen Elizabeth II Grandstand, built by Wimpey, was erected between the 1960 and 1961 Royal Meeting and the Members' Stand went up between Royal Ascot 1963 and 1964.

The Car Parks at Ascot almost certainly play more part in the event than at any other venue – they are far from merely functional with lavish picnics, including butlers, candelabra and silver service not uncommon, especially in Number One and Two Car Parks. In 2006, a Country Life survey found that Royal Ascot is the South of England's most popular picnic spot and the most popular sporting occasion at which to picnic in the country.

Although Ascot likes to think it runs Number One Car Park, it is far from uncommon for berths in this sought after spot to be passed down formally from generation to generation.

Ascot's much loved tradition of "singing round the bandstand" or "community/traditional singing" began in the 1970s under the stewardship of Lady Beaumont, wife of the then Clerk of the Course, Captain Sir Nicholas Beaumont. The now unmissable sing song of British favourites and flag waving after racing was an immediate success with thousands of racegoers staying on and making it an integral part of their day. Now, traditional singing is listed as part of the day's formal proceedings in the racecard and song books and flags are handed round.

2002 saw plenty of change to the established pattern at the Royal Meeting with additional races named after Royal breeding centres introduced as the meeting expanded to five days to mark The Queen's Golden Jubilee.

In addition, one race name was changed as the newly promoted Cork & Orrery Stakes became The Golden Jubilee Stakes. The racecourse was decked out in red, white and blue flags as the five days in June played a major part in the country's celebrations.

The racecourse closed for redevelopment in September 2004 – with the Finale Meeting ending with singing round the bandstand – the first time this tradition has been extended to a non-Royal Ascot day.

The 2005 Royal Meeting was staged in York, providing the city with its biggest ever sporting event. The city, region and racecourse threw themselves into the extravaganza, which saw expansion into the Knavesmire so as to accommodate circa 50,000 people each day.

Royal Ascot at York took place with a Royal Enclosure dress code and Royal Procession every day. The bell used to instruct jockeys to mount at Ascot travelled up along with the Brown Jack statue commemorating the Ascot legend. Even the "Greencoats," who form the ceremonial guard for The Queen at Royal Ascot, came to York. Their garb rather speaks for itself and it is rumoured that the original velvet uniforms were made from material left over from curtains in Windsor Castle.

Historically, Ascot Racecourse redevelops every 50 years or so, once a generation, and throughout considerable changes the Royal Meeting has maintained its position as a much loved event at the heart of the national sporting and social calendar. Ascot's traditions remain as strong, strictly observed and loved now as they ever were, whilst the racing goes from strength to strength (Group One races have more than doubled to seven since 1999).

The new Ascot, designed by HOK Sport, was officially reopened by The Queen, on time and to its £220 million budget, on 20th June 2006.

The modern era immediately had a new equine legend in Yeats, who won an unprecedented four Gold Cups before retiring in 2009. A statue to commemorate his achievements now stands in the Parade Ring.

2011 saw Ascot celebrate its tercentenary and this year is another exciting landmark occasion for the racecourse as the Royal Meeting plays its part in The Queen's Diamond Jubilee celebrations.

ASCOT RACECOURSE KEY DATES

Summer 1711 – It was Queen Anne who first saw the potential for a racecourse at Ascot, which in those days was called East Cote. Whilst out riding she came upon an area of open heath, not far from Windsor Castle, that looked an ideal place for “horses to gallop at full stretch.”

June 1711 – Charles, Duke of Somerset instructed Sir William Wyndham, Master of the Royal Buckhounds, to have the open heath cleared of scrub and gorse in preparation for a race meeting.

11 August 1711 – The first race meeting ever held at Ascot took place. Her Majesty’s Plate, worth 100 guineas and open to any horse, mare or gelding over the age of six, was the inaugural event. Each horse was required to carry a weight of 12st and seven runners took part.

17 September 1711 – the success of Her Majesty’s Plate in August meant the second meeting followed soon after in September.

31 July 1727 – John Cheney published a prototype form book, which evolved into the Racing Calendar, recording the conditions of each race and the prize.

1744 – The Yeoman Prickers were formed. Employed by the Master of the Buckhounds, their distinctive livery of forest green coats with gold facings are worn today by the Ascot Greencoats, who attend Royal Ascot each year.

1752 – The popularity of attending the racing at Ascot was becoming apparent in social circles, prompting the Duke of Bedford to write that when arriving in London ‘I could find no soul to dine or sup with.’

1762 – The first use of racing colours was introduced, although it wasn’t mandatory for another two decades.

1773 – James Weatherby, Keeper of the Match Book (the book of records for match races) was authorised by the Jockey Club to publish a racing calendar. James Weatherby began a family firm, still in existence today. Weatherbys are the secretariat of horse racing in Britain.

June 1791 – The Oatlands Stakes was run at Ascot – an important landmark race as it was the first handicap race, where the weights of the runners were adjusted according to their form to give them equal chances.

1793 – The first permanent building was erected by George Slingsby, a Windsor builder. It held 1,650 people and was used until 1838.

1807 – The inaugural running of The Gold Cup for three-year-olds and upwards. It is significant that the first Gold Cup was won by a three-year-old, this was an event designed to attract horses bred to compete much younger than had been the case the previous century.

1813 – Parliament passed an Act of Enclosure. This Act ensured that Ascot Heath, although the property of the Crown, would be kept and used as a racecourse for the public in the future. Racing at Ascot was now secure. The Master of the Buckhounds continued to manage the races and the racecourse – just as it was more than 100 years before.

1820 – George III died and the Prince Regent ascended the throne as George IV. He immediately ordered alterations to be made to the Royal Stand by John Nash. Nash's alterations did not satisfy the King and so, in 1822, Nash designed a brand new Royal Stand, erected in just five weeks.

1822 – The Royal Enclosure was born when King George IV commissioned a two-storey stand to be built with a surrounding lawn. Access was by invitation of the King where he entertained his friends in style.

1825 – King George IV's greatest legacy to Royal Ascot was the Royal Procession. The King leading four other coaches with members of the Royal party drove up the Straight Mile in front of the crowds. A diarist of the day commented; 'the whole thing looked very splendid.'

1837 – Turf on the track was relaid by the Clerk of the Course, William Hibburd, to improve the ground. Rails and posts are constructed along the track.

1838 – Queen Victoria made her first visit to Ascot as sovereign. To mark her first visit, the Queen inaugurated a new race over one and a half miles, known today as The Queen's Vase.

1838 – Horses were numbered in the racecard.

July 1838 – A decision was made to construct a new stand between the betting stand and the Royal Stand. The new stand took 10 months to build and was warmly welcomed when it opened on May 20, 1839. The lower half of the stand could hold about 3,000 people and contained a betting hall.

1839 – For the first time at Ascot, the judge hoisted the number of the winner onto a large blackboard, thus putting an end to the disputes as to which horse had won.

1856 – The railway was brought to Ascot with the opening of the Staines to Wokingham line.

1861 (approx) – Racing in the mid-19th century was becoming more professional with Ascot appointing its first official Clerk of the Scales, James Manning (whose family stayed in the post until 1970, latterly working for the Jockey Club).

1861 – Prince Albert, husband of Queen Victoria, died and Queen Victoria did not return to Ascot again.

1862 – A new race at the meeting was named after Prince Albert: The Prince of Wales's Stakes.

1863 – Prince Albert, eldest son and second child of Victoria and Albert, known as Bertie, attended his first Ascot meeting aged 21 and continued to lend his support to the Royal Meeting with enthusiasm. He restored the Royal Procession and revived the custom of inviting overseas visitors to Ascot.

1873 – Ascot witnessed the first victory for the riding phenomenon Fred Archer. Over 14 years, he rode 80 winners at the racecourse.

1896 – The Grandstand had a clock tower erected.

1901 – Racing at Ascot took place in sombre mood to mark the death of Queen Victoria. Prince Albert ascended the throne as King Edward VII.

1901 – The role of Master of the Buckhounds was disbanded and a new role created, that of the King's representative. The first man to undertake this role was Viscount Churchill.

1901 – All three stands in the Royal Enclosure were demolished under the instruction of King Edward VII and two new stands were built between September, 1901 and May 1902. The total cost was £28,350.

1902 - A third stand was built at a cost of £27,636. This stand included lifts, the first to be installed on a British racecourse. In order to have the work completed by May 1902, some 500 men were employed on the task, working day and night shifts.

1908 – The 'Five Shilling Stand' was built – later known as the Silver Ring Stand at a cost of £30,000.

1912 – Racegoers began to arrive by car and for the first time, motor cars were allowed to park on the Heath.

1913 – The Ascot Authority was established by an Act of Parliament. His Majesty's Representative became Senior Trustee of the Authority with the Clerk of the Course acting as Secretary.

1926 – The Royal Enclosure buildings were extended and a new Iron Stand was erected. Ascot began to install a new watering system, with the facility to dispense around two million gallons of water onto the turf.

1929 – The Tote building was constructed (still standing today, beside the Pre-Parade Ring). The designs had been agreed by the Racecourse Betting Control Board (RBCB), the authority overseeing wagering at this time.

1936 – George V died and was succeeded by his eldest son, who became Edward VIII. The new King was a keen follower of horseracing but he never attended the Royal Meeting as reigning monarch. By the end of the year Edward VIII had abdicated in order to marry Mrs Wallis Simpson.

1937 – George VI & Queen Elizabeth attend their first Ascot race meeting.

1940 – Racing at Ascot cancelled. The racecourse was commandeered by the army, the Grandstand providing accommodation for gunners of the Royal Artillery.

15 May 1943 – Racing at Ascot resumed, with an eight-race card.

21 May 1945 – Ascot staged its first post war fixture and the 19-year-old Princess Elizabeth attended for the first time.

1946 – Major Crocker Bulteel was appointed as the Clerk of the Course, regarded as ‘the outstanding racing administrator of his day.’ The Duke of Norfolk was appointed as the King’s Representative, it was his ambition to ‘make Ascot second to none among European racecourses.’

1946 – The Ascot fixture list extended to include racing in July, September and October.

1953 – Queen Elizabeth II crowned on 2nd June (ascended the throne on 6th February 1952).

1955 - The rules of divorce were relaxed and divorcees were able to enter the Royal Enclosure. However, a redevelopment of the Enclosure shortly before this had added the new Queen’s Lawn. Entrance was by invitation only and the Court rules governing divorce still applied.

13 June 1961 – The Grandstand was demolished and the Queen Elizabeth II Stand was built. It took 11 months to build, with 550 workers at a cost of £1 million. The stand represented a state-of-the-art facility at the time, accommodated 13,000 people and had 280 private boxes.

1975 – The BBC outside-broadcast staff picketed and there was no television coverage at Royal Ascot.

April, 1998 – Lord Hartington, Her Majesty’s Representative, revealed that changes to the racecourse were being contemplated.

2001 – In order to facilitate the redevelopment, Ascot incorporated as Ascot Authority (Holdings) Limited, the most significant milestone in its structure since the 1913 Act of Parliament.

2002 – Plans were announced to redevelop Ascot Racecourse. The existing Queen Elizabeth II stand was to be replaced and the course realigned. The Golden Jubilee was celebrated.

September, 2004 – Ascot held its last meeting with the old facilities. Demolition of the stand began and the redevelopment programme commenced.

June, 2005 – Royal Ascot was staged at York Racecourse.

June, 2006 – The new Ascot stand was opened on time and on budget.

June, 2009 – Yeats won his fourth Gold Cup, beating Sagaro’s record, set in the 1970s.

2011 – Ascot celebrated its Tercentenary.

June, 2012 – The country celebrates The Queen’s Diamond Jubilee. The Golden Jubilee Stakes becomes The Diamond Jubilee Stakes.

RACE HISTORIES & CONDTIONS

The Queen Anne Stakes (Group One)

Founded in 1840, The Queen Anne Stakes commemorates the monarch who established racing at Ascot in 1711. Run as The Trial Stakes until 1929, The Queen Anne Stakes was first awarded Group Three status in 1971, becoming Group Two in 1984. The race, attracting Europe's top older milers, achieved the highest three-year average rating of any Group Two race in Britain from 1999 to 2002 according to the then International Classifications (now World Thoroughbred Rankings) and was elevated to Group One status accordingly in 2003. At that time, it moved from the traditional opening race on the card to the fourth race. However, in 2008 it reverted to its traditional slot, opening the meeting.

The King's Stand Stakes (Group One)

A Stand Plate was first run on the round course in 1837, becoming The Royal Stand Plate in 1858. The race was re-named The Queen's Stand Plate in 1860 for two-year-olds, over the sprint distance of four furlongs, finally becoming The King's Stand Plate in 1901. Today the race remains a sprint, although now run over the minimum trip of five furlongs for three-year-olds and upwards. In 2005, it became the first British leg of the Global Sprint Challenge and in 2008 it was promoted to Group One.

The St James's Palace Stakes (Group One)

Named after the Tudor Royal residence, the inaugural running of The St James's Palace Stakes in 1834 was a walkover for the Derby winner Plenipotentiary. This race features the best male milers from the Classic generation, often attracting horses that have run in the English, French and Irish 2,000 Guineas.

The Coventry Stakes (Group Two)

First run in 1890, the race was named after the ninth Earl of Coventry, Master of the Buckhounds, between 1886 and 1892. This is the first Group contest of the year for juveniles. Many top class horses win this race before going on to achieve greatness and, in 2004, the race was promoted to Group Two status.

The Ascot Stakes (Handicap)

First run in 1839, The Ascot Stakes is run over two and a half miles. Like The Gold Cup and Queen Alexandra Stakes, this race provides a thorough test of stamina. It is one of just three races at the Royal Meeting in which the field passes the winning post twice. The race attracts horses that have run in the early season staying handicaps, most notably the Chester Cup.

The Windsor Castle Stakes (Listed)

First run in 1839 over the straight mile course, this race was originally designed to attract three-year-old colts and fillies that had competed in the early season Classics. It is now run over the minimum distance of five furlongs and restricted to two-year-olds.

The Jersey Stakes (Group Three)

The Jersey Stakes replaced the second leg of the Triennial Stakes in 1919. Named after the fourth Earl of Jersey, who was the Master of the Buckhounds between 1782 and 1783, this specialist seven-furlong contest is framed for three-year-olds who have yet to win a Group One or Group Two race, but have often competed at that level, including in the Guineas.

The Windsor Forest Stakes (Group Two)

The Windsor Forest Stakes was a new addition to the Royal Meeting in 2004 and part of an industry-wide initiative to encourage connections of the leading Classic generation fillies from the previous year to keep their stars in training. Run over the straight mile course, it is open only to fillies and mares aged four or over. As a Group Two race, Group One winners carry a penalty, so the option of the Group One Queen Anne Stakes, where no penalties are carried, is still open to the very best fillies.

The Prince of Wales's Stakes (Group One)

The Prince of Wales's Stakes, first run at Royal Ascot in 1862 and therefore celebrating its 150th anniversary this year, is named after the son of Queen Victoria (later to become King Edward VII). Originally staged over a mile and five furlongs, the race often attracted horses that had participated in the Classics. There was no Prince of Wales's Stakes from 1946 until 1968, a year before the current Prince of Wales's investiture in 1969, when the distance changed to one mile and two furlongs. In 2000, The Prince of Wales's Stakes was upgraded to Group One status and restricted to four-year-olds and upwards.

The Royal Hunt Cup (Handicap)

The Royal Hunt Cup always provides one of the greatest spectacles of the Royal Meeting as a maximum field thunders up Ascot's straight mile course for one of the biggest betting races of the season. First run in 1843, it was originally staged over seven furlongs and 155 yards. The current distance of a mile was established in 1955 when the straight course was re-aligned as part of the previous redevelopment.

The Queen Mary Stakes (Group Two)

Named after the consort of King George V, this race was first run in 1921. The first major race of the season exclusively for two-year-old fillies, The Queen Mary Stakes is run over the minimum distance of five furlongs and provides a useful opportunity to assess their ability and potential to perform at Group One level. It was promoted to Group Two status in 2004.

The Sandringham Stakes (Listed Handicap)

Originally registered as The Fern Hill Stakes, this race was part of the traditional Heath Day card on the Saturday after Royal Ascot. It was renamed The Sandringham Stakes, after the royal residence, as part of the Golden Jubilee celebrations in 2002. This is a competitive Listed handicap over a mile, limited to three-year-old fillies only.

The Norfolk Stakes (Group Two)

First run in 1843, this race was formerly known as the New Stakes and staged over a distance of just under four furlongs. It was renamed after the Duke of Norfolk, Her Majesty's Representative at Ascot between 1945 and 1972, in 1973. For two-year-olds, it was promoted to Group Two status in 2006.

The Ribblesdale Stakes (Group Two)

Named after the fourth Baron Ribblesdale, Master of the Buckhounds between 1892 and 1895. First run in 1919, this race was originally staged over a mile for three and four-year-olds. It is now restricted to Classic generation fillies and run over the longer distance of a mile and a half.

The Gold Cup (Group One)

Founded in 1807, The Gold Cup (which, contrary to popular opinion is not called the "Ascot Gold Cup") is the oldest and one of the most prestigious races at Royal Ascot. Staged over the marathon trip of two and a half miles, the race is a stiff test of stamina and attracts the very best staying horses. Many horses have distinguished themselves with dual Gold Cup wins, enhancing the race's reputation as a specialists' event. Sagaro won three times in the 1970s but Yeats did better still, becoming a four-time winner in 2009.

The Britannia Stakes (Handicap)

First run in 1928 over the straight mile of the Royal Hunt Cup course and run under similar conditions today. Open to three-year-old colts and geldings only, The Britannia is almost as popular these days as The Royal Hunt Cup.

The Tercentenary Stakes (Group Three)

The Tercentenary Stakes became the new name for The Hampton Court Stakes in 2011, when the racecourse celebrated 300 years since its inauguration. It was also been promoted from Listed to Group Three in tandem. The race was originally part of the Saturday Heath Day card, under the title of The New Stakes, and joined Royal Ascot as part of the Golden Jubilee celebrations in 2002. This 10-furlong event is restricted to three-year-olds.

The King George V Stakes (Handicap)

Like The Duke of Edinburgh Stakes, this is a handicap for middle distance performers, staged over one and a half miles. The inaugural running was in July 1946 as part of the first fixture staged at the racecourse after the Royal Meeting, before the race was transferred to Royal Ascot in 1948. It is for three-year-olds.

The Albany Stakes (Group Three)

This race was first run in 2002 as The Henry Carnarvon Stakes, honouring The Queen's late racing manager, and proved so successful that it was promoted to Group Three status in 2005. Restricted to two-year-old fillies, the six-furlong event provides one of the first opportunities of the season for promising types to prove their ability and go on to harbour Guineas aspirations.

The King Edward VII Stakes (Group Two)

Formerly known, and still colloquially referred to, as The Ascot Derby, this race was inaugurated in 1834 and regularly featured horses of both sexes that had competed in the middle-distance Classics. First run as The King Edward VII Stakes in 1926 and now restricted to three-year-old colts and geldings only, it still attracts horses that have competed in the Derby.

The Coronation Stakes (Group One)

First run in 1840, The Coronation Stakes was founded to commemorate the crowning of Queen Victoria in 1838. This mile event is the fillies' equivalent of The St James's Palace Stakes and attracts horses that have run in the English, Irish and French 1,000 Guineas.

The Wolferton Handicap Stakes (Listed)

First run in this form in 2002 as part of the five-day Royal Ascot meeting to celebrate The Queen's Golden Jubilee, this is a Listed handicap over 10 furlongs for four-year-olds and upwards.

The Queen's Vase (Group Three)

Named to honour Queen Victoria and first run in 1838, this race became The King's Vase in 1903 and reverted to its original name of The Queen's Vase on the succession of Queen Elizabeth II. Run over two miles, this Group Three contest provides a thorough test of stamina for three-year-olds and winners of this race often go on to compete in The Gold Cup in future years.

The Buckingham Palace Stakes (Handicap)

Another race introduced as part of the Golden Jubilee celebrations in 2002. Staged over seven furlongs, it is a tricky and competitive handicap for three-year-olds and upward, with aspirations to compete at Listed level.

The Chesham Stakes (Listed)

Named after the third Baron Chesham, who was the last Master of the Buckhounds from 1900 to 1901. First run in 1919, The Chesham Stakes replaced the first leg of The Triennial Stakes, which had been run over five furlongs for two-year-olds. Now a Listed contest, the race takes place over the longer distance of seven furlongs.

The Hardwicke Stakes (Group Two)

Named after the fifth Earl of Hardwicke, Master of the Buckhounds between 1874 and 1879, the race was first run in 1879. The Group Two contest continues to attract the best older middle distance horses today, and is often an informative guide to The King George VI & Queen Elizabeth Stakes (sponsored by Betfair) in July. This year, for the first time, it will be run with no Group One or Two winners' penalties and prize money has doubled to £200,000

The Diamond Jubilee Stakes (Group One)

Formerly known as The Cork and Orrery Stakes, Royal Ascot's most prestigious sprint was given a new name and elevated to Group One status to celebrate The Queen's Golden Jubilee in 2002. This year and going forward, it assumes the mantle of Diamond Jubilee Stakes. First run in 1868, this six-furlong contest was originally named after Lord Cork, another Master of the Buckhounds. In 2005, the race became the second British leg of the Global Sprint Challenge.

The Wokingham Stakes (Handicap)

The inaugural running of The Wokingham Stakes took place in 1813, making this race the oldest handicap at Royal Ascot. This famous sprint is named after the market town seven miles from Ascot Racecourse, and the first dual winner was appropriately also named Wokingham (1881 and 1882). Over the years the race has developed a reputation as a fiercely competitive handicap and one of the major betting heats of the season.

The Duke of Edinburgh Stakes (Handicap)

Originally The Bessborough Stakes, named after the fifth Earl of Bessborough, who was Master of the Buckhounds between 1848 and 1866, the race was renamed The Duke Of Edinburgh Stakes in 1999. First run in 1914 as a five-furlong event for two-year-olds, it has now evolved into a middle distance handicap for three-year-olds and upward.

The Queen Alexandra Stakes (Conditions)

Run over the marathon trip of two-and-three-quarter miles, The Queen Alexandra Stakes is not only the longest race of the meeting, but also the longest contest run under flat racing rules. Named after the consort of King Edward VII, the race was first run in 1864 as The Alexandra Plate over three miles. It will always be associated with Brown Jack, arguably Royal Ascot's greatest equine legend, who won this race on six consecutive occasions between 1929 and 1934. The Queen Alexandra Stakes always closes the meeting and although, or perhaps because of its extreme distance in a time when so much emphasis is on speed, it has become a national institution and is affectionately supported by regulars.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR RESIDENTS AND VISITORS

The racecourse is conscious that Royal Ascot affects people living in the area and continues to take steps to minimise inconvenience where possible.

Car and coach parking plans are in place to stream as many people as possible from car parks to the course via routes on racecourse premises so as to reduce pedestrian congestion on the High Street. Pedestrian routes will be clearly signed.

Ascot Racecourse and the Royal Borough of Windsor & Maidenhead (RBWM) are in constant communication on all issues relating to the Royal Meeting and produce a coordinated cleaning programme involving racecourse and council staff.

The racecourse has a strong relationship with Thames Valley Police and the emergency services and works with them throughout the planning for Royal Ascot.

The security operation during Royal Ascot is a joint venture between the police and Ascot's own security staff. Among 6,000 staff on duty for every day of Royal Ascot, there will be 250 police personnel and 750 stewards and security staff on site.

Regular patrols are made around all areas of the racecourse by security personnel and both uniformed and plain clothed police officers and quick response teams will be in place to react to any antisocial incident on any part of the racecourse.

Ascot catering and bar staff can refuse to serve alcohol to anyone who appears to be intoxicated, and Ascot Racecourse security staff will stringently endeavour to prevent racegoers from leaving the racecourse with drinks purchased on site, in support of the alcohol ban on the High Street.

The racecourse management is mindful that touts trading from areas close to the racecourse entrances can cause a nuisance. RBWM and Ascot Racecourse, supported by the police, work together to manage touts who are acting unreasonably or those who are persistently causing a nuisance or an obstruction. The Police and Ascot security teams will move touts on from the front of the turnstiles, and from all entrances and exits.

Advice announcements will be made at Ascot Railway Station and by a mobile messaging unit recommending that visitors do not purchase tickets (or racecards) from touts or unofficial outlets. Notices will be placed on the Station Path and other approaches and RBWM enforcement officers will be present.

Ascot Racecourse has worked in partnership with South West Trains to increase the level of rail services provided during the busy periods at Royal Ascot in recent years.

Additional services will be provided on the Thursday and Friday of the Royal Meeting, including an extended service through until 23.40hrs. On the Saturday, services will be available from 10.00am until 23.40hrs, to ease transport congestion.

TRAFFIC PLAN FOR ROYAL ASCOT

In 2012, there will be no drop off facility for taxis or otherwise on the High Street or in the lay-by opposite the Grandstand. The new drop off position is within Car Park 3.

Arrival Phase

- ✓ Southbound one way system is in place from 1030 until 1400, traffic permitting:
  - ❖ on A332 Windsor Road from Peanut Roundabout (junction of Mounts Hill and A322 Sheet Street Road) to Heatherwood Roundabout (western end of the A329 Ascot High Street)
- ✓ Two way traffic from Shepherds White Roundabout (junction of A330 Winkfield Road and A332 Windsor Road) to the new course underpass at Holloway's.
- ✓ Two way traffic from Library Roundabout on the High Street (junction of A3329 High Street and A330 Winkfield Road) to the entrance to the course underpass, by the Royal Ascot Golf Club delivery Road, on Winkfield Road, to the roundabout, where traffic will turn left onto the A322 Windsor Road.

Departure Phase

- ✓ Northbound one way system is in place, (reversing the arrangements in place for the arrival phase) - 1630 hrs until 2000 hrs, traffic permitting
  - ❖ On the A332 Windsor Road northbound from the junction with Burleigh Road to Peanut Roundabout Mounts Hill
  - ❖ On the A330 Winkfield Road northbound from the new entrance to the course underpass, by the Royal Ascot Golf Club delivery Road.
  - ❖ On New Mile Road (heading West to East) to the junction with Cheapside Road.
- ✓ Times of the above arrangements may vary
- ✓ Coach Route is through Cheapside and Watersplash Lane to coach parks.
- ✓ Coaches are not permitted on the High Street from the roundabout at the top of Station Hill to Heatherwood Roundabout.

General Advice

- ✓ Follow the temporary colour coded routes shown on the AA signs and allow plenty of time for your journey (appropriate colour coded routes from each car park will be shown on the reverse of all car park labels)
- ✓ Do not try to arrive via other routes or by using Satellite Navigation as these will not take into account road closures and temporary traffic management.
- ✓ Have your vehicle parking label clearly displayed once you have arrived in the Ascot signed area. This will speed entry to the course and reduce congestion.
- ✓ Please allow plenty of time for your transfer to the enclosure entrances where there are search and ticket check points.
- ✓ Check on your iPhone app to get the latest travel advice
- ✓ BBC Radio Berkshire will be providing traffic and travel bulletins every 15 minutes throughout the meeting on 95.4FM.

DID YOU KNOW...?

- Since Queen Anne founded Ascot Racecourse back in 1711, a further 11 monarchs have acceded to the British throne.
- Mrs Gertrude Shilling was undeniably the premier indefatigable sartorial dame of Ascot (nicknamed The Ascot Mascot), but she has met with competition from all over the world, including in 1976 when Australia's Dame Edna Everage, alias Barry Humphries, attended with a four foot Sydney Opera House perched on "her" head. Following the successes of Choisir, Takeover Target, Miss Andretti and Scenic Blast on the track, Royal Ascot is as much an institution in Australia as at home these days, but back then Dame Edna said to the assembled press that she: "wasn't aware it was a racing event until the other day. I always thought it was an exhibition of gas water heaters!"
- The wearing of Bowler Hats by the Ascot Stewards is one of the most endearing and defining sights of Ascot, and not just at the Royal Meeting. Ironically, given that the tradition is now so proudly protected and maintained by the longer serving stewards, the dress instruction was met with near mutiny when it was introduced in the late 1950s in an attempt to address slipping standards. The trustees had to give pay rises at the time to stop the staff striking over the issue. When the racecourse closed for redevelopment in 2004, one of the assurances that the management had to give at the time was that there were no plans to alter the much loved "uniform" when everyone returned in 2006.
- Viscount Churchill was appointed as the first sovereign's representative at Ascot in 1901. He is reputed to have taken personal charge of vetting applications for entrance into the Royal Enclosure, sorting letters into three baskets marked 'Certainly' 'Perhaps' and 'Certainly Not.' Viscount Churchill loved this task and became notorious for recognising faces in the Royal Enclosure and challenging those who should not be there. For this purpose he was granted special access to the Divorce Registry, as those on it were not permitted access to the Royal Enclosure.
- Many people were sympathetic to the Ascot Authority in June, 1964 after the Royal Meeting had to be curtailed due to severe rain, thus blighting the opening of the new Royal Enclosure Stand. None more so than the old lady who sent the Authority £1 because she was so distressed to hear of the course's bad luck. The Duke of Norfolk, Her Majesty's Representative at the time, responded with equal magnanimity, thanking the lady and inviting her to a day's racing

- In the days before actors were allowed in the Royal Enclosure, King Edward VII asked the actor Charles Hawtrey if he would be seeing him at Royal Ascot. Hawtrey explained that rules prevented it, whereupon the King took it upon himself personally to send Hawtrey the necessary badge. When Ascot came, Hawtrey entered the Enclosure to the great surprise of Lord Churchill, His Majesty's Representative at Ascot, who said: "I don't remember sending you a badge." Hawtrey explained that this was not surprising as he hadn't – "King Edward did!"
- It is said that when Queen Anne was in residence at Windsor Castle, she imported a large quantity of green velour material from France, in which she dressed her "Yeoman Prickers," who were armed with pikes to move people out of the way at the races! That particular practice doesn't sit comfortably with the modern day customer service ethic but the outfits are remembered with today's "Greencoats," the ceremonial guard for The Queen at Ascot, wearing the livery.
- In the early 1920s, Lord Lonsdale drove every day from his rented house adjoining the Winkfield Road crossing, up the High Street to the racecourse entrance with outriders, drivers and footmen, all wearing his distinctive yellow livery. The proceedings were so grand that critics claimed he was trying to rival the Royal Procession.
- The Duke of Norfolk must have been dismayed to read in The Times and The Telegraph on April 27, 1971 that Ascot would permit 'hot pants' in the Royal Enclosure! The next day he corrected the misinformation in no uncertain terms.
- Back in 1954, The Queen had a famous Royal Ascot triumph with the brilliant Aureole, who had suffered a minor eye injury a few days before the Meeting. When visiting the paddock just before the race, The Queen asked her jockey, Eph Smith, who wore a hearing-aid, whether he would win. The reply came: "Well, Ma'am, we are rather handicapped. The horse is blind in one eye and I'm deaf!"
- King Edward VII's mother, Queen Victoria, was known to have frowned upon her son's general and unparalleled enthusiasm for good living and, of course, racing, but on his accession in 1901, the new King closed the Royal Stand completely for the Royal Meeting due to the death of his mother and requested that all those who attended within the Royal Enclosure wear black.
- Due to the knock on effects of the General Election, the 2001 Royal Procession was restricted to two days as the horses and carriages were required to convey The Queen to Westminster for the State Opening of Parliament on the Wednesday and had to be in place for a practice on Tuesday. The Royal Party, including The Queen, came by car on both days and arrived in time for racing.

- Sir John Crocker Bulteel was Clerk of the Course from 1946 until his death in 1956. A figure of great importance in the history of Ascot Racecourse, Sir John Crocker Bulteel was known as an outstanding racing administrator but it was his love of racing that he is most famous for. It is due mainly to the dedication of Sir John that today Ascot stages more than just the Royal Meeting. The King George VI & Queen Elizabeth Stakes, initially run as the Festival of Britain Stakes, was his brainchild. The race was first run in 1951 and did more than any other race to change the face of top-level racing in this country and, ultimately, the world. It promoted the cause of international inter-age competition and more often than not, its winner is the seasonal champion.
- During the foot and mouth outbreak in 2001, the management suggested that ladies bear in mind the precautionary foot and mouth disinfectant mats on all entrances to the racecourse when considering their footwear. Not everyone listened which made for some interesting pictures in the likes of “Hello” and “Harpers” that year!
- In 1964, Trelawny was to bid for a third consecutive Ascot Stakes/Queen Alexandra Stakes double. He was beaten in The Ascot Stakes but would have walked over in The Queen Alexandra on Friday had the meeting not been abandoned due to waterlogging. This is the answer to a question which appeared in the Racing Post Christmas quiz in 2001 and resulted in numerous calls to all departments at the racecourse!
- In 2005, Ascot auctioned some 300 lots of memorabilia associated with the old stand. The auction raised £389,965 with Racing Welfare the primary beneficiary with the bulk of this coming from a bid of £280,000 for the wrought cast iron entranceway from the track to the winners’ enclosure, purchased by leading owner Bill Gredley. The crowd fell silent as the bid just kept going up and up from an original reserve of just £20,000 - £30,000!
- Jockeys at Ascot are called to mount by a bell in the parade ring and, unique to Ascot, a bell is also rung as the horses swing into the straight for races run on the round course.
- A familiar sight at Royal Ascot is the arrival of horse-drawn carriages along the High Street, to the sound of hunting horns. These carriages belong to members of the country’s carriage clubs, who stable their horses during racing whilst they enjoy their club facilities on course prior to departure.

THE ASCOT BOARD

Johnny Weatherby, Her Majesty's Representative

Johnny Weatherby, a Trustee at Ascot since 1997, succeeded the Duke of Devonshire as Chairman of Ascot Authority (Holdings) Ltd in 2008 and last year, took on the additional role as Her Majesty's Representative. He joined the family firm of Weatherbys, administrators to the racing industry since 1770, in 1979 and was seconded to the Jockey Club as Director from 1990 to 1992 before, in 1993, being appointed Chairman of Weatherbys.

Charles Barnett, Chief Executive

Charles Barnett joined Ascot Racecourse in 2007 having been Managing Director of Aintree Racecourse since 1993. Following a degree in Law at Christ Church, Oxford, he commenced a career in Marine Insurance and qualified as a solicitor. In 1984, he joined Haydock Park as Managing Director, graduating to the same role at Aintree in 1993. He was also Chief Executive of Chester Racecourse during the period 1993 to 2000. During his 15 years at Aintree, he oversaw several major developments culminating in a £35-million redevelopment programme.

Sir Francis Brooke Bt, Trustee

Sir Francis Brooke is a Director and Senior Fund Manager at Troy Asset Management Ltd. His family has been involved for many years in the breeding, owning and training of racehorses – mainly in Ireland. Before joining Troy in 2004, he was a Director of Mercury Asset Management (later MLIM) from 1997-2004 and Foreign & Colonial Management Ltd (1989-97).

Mark Davies, Trustee

Mark Davies was Chief Executive of GNI, a large broking business, from 1972 to 1994. He was Chief Executive of Gerrard Group plc from 1995 to 2001. Currently, Mark Davies is Chairman of FF&P Asset Management Ltd, a Director of Fleming Family & Partners Ltd and Chairman of Thornhill Holdings in addition to a wide portfolio of other directorships. He is a Jockey Club steward and a Director of Racing Welfare. He joined Ascot in February, 2002.

Justin Dowley, Non Executive Director

Justin Dowley joined the board in January, 2008. He is a partner at Tricorn Partners LLP, an independent, partner-owned corporate finance advisory firm established in 2003. Prior to setting up Tricorn, he was formerly both head of M&A and co-head of European Investment Banking at Merrill Lynch. Before joining Merrill Lynch in 1996, Dowley was a director and head of UK investment banking at Morgan Grenfell where he worked for 15 years after qualifying as a chartered accountant with Price Waterhouse in 1980. Dowley has a wide interest in sport and in addition to his Ascot role, he is on the committee at Lord's.

Alan Flitcroft, Finance Director

Alan Flitcroft joined Ascot as Finance Director in 2011. He was previously Chief Operating Officer and Finance Director of Cardiff City Football Club and, prior to that, was a partner at Ernst & Young, where he headed up the firm's Media and Entertainment group.

Alastair Warwick, Chief Operating Officer

Alastair Warwick joined the management team as General Manager in 2008. He has worked for over 12 years in horseracing including at Aintree, Cartmel and Chester, culminating in four years as Chief Executive of Hamilton Park Racecourse, before joining Ascot.

A FULL HISTORY OF THE QUEEN ANNE STAKES

First run in 1840, the Queen Anne Stakes commemorates the monarch who established racing at Ascot.

In the early summer of 1711, while being driven in a carriage from Windsor Castle, Queen Anne decided that Ascot Heath would be a good place to establish a racecourse. A few weeks later, on August 11, 1711, the Royal Meeting was founded.

Always run over a mile, the Queen Anne Stakes attracts the leading older milers from across Europe. The establishment of the Pattern race system for categorising the top events in 1971 saw the Queen Anne Stakes have Group Three status, before becoming Group Two in 1984 and then Group One in 2003. Between 1840 and 1929, it was run as the Trial Stakes. The first running went to the Duke of Rutland's Flambeau, who also won the following year.

Since the Second World War, the Queen Anne Stakes has been attracting milers of the highest calibre. Ichoir Boy ran in this prestigious event in the purple colours of The Queen in 1952, with Her Majesty having ascended to the throne in February that year. Unfortunately, the three-year-old, who would have been a most appropriate winner, ran dismally and was almost out of sight at the finish, provoking one racegoer to burst out laughing.

An outraged Royal Meeting crowd strained their necks to see who the jovial offender was, only to find that it was Her Majesty herself who found the forlorn running of her charge so amusing.

Lester Piggott rode his first Queen Anne victor on Sparkler in 1972 and then went on to win the race on a further three occasions with Baptism (1979), Belmont Bay (1981) and Mr Fluorocarbon (1982).

A remarkable running in 1974 saw the first three horses home - Confusion, Gloss and Royal Perogative - disqualified for causing interference and the race was awarded to the Italian challenger Brook who passed the post in fourth for trainer Mario Benetti and jockey Brian Taylor, who also won on Ardoon (1976) and Jellaby (1977).

In the early 1980s, trainer Henry Cecil made the race his own, winning four successive renewals from 1981 to 1984 with Belmont Bay, Mr Fluorocarbon, Valiyar and Trojan Fen.

The great Warning was victorious in 1989, while the 1990 winner Markofdistinction, under a young Frankie Dettori, also went on to score at the course later in the season in the Group One Queen Elizabeth II Stakes, as did the 1992 hero Lahib.

Barathea, triumphant in 1994, proved himself the best miler in the world that season when subsequently successful in the Grade One Breeders' Cup Mile at Churchill Downs.

Godolphin and Sir Michael Stoute dominated the Queen Anne Stakes in the late 1990s and early 2000s. The former was successful for four consecutive years with Charnwood Forest (1996), Allied Forces (1997), Intikhab (1998) and Cape Cross (1999), all trained by Saeed bin Suroor.

From 2000 until 2002, the race went to Sir Michael's charges. In 2000, Kalanisi scored prior to success in the Group One Champion Stakes at Newmarket and Breeders' Cup Turf at Churchill Downs, while the 2001 winner Medicean went on to victory in the Group One Coral-Eclipse at Sandown. The trainer's hat-trick was completed in 2002 by No Excuse Needed.

Godolphin took spoils in 2004 as Dubai Destination stormed home to win by four lengths, while stable-companion and subsequent Coral-Eclipse victor Refuse To Bend prevailed by a neck from the star filly Soviet Song in 2004. A seventh win for the operation came in 2007 when Ramonti gamely held on in a thrilling four-way photo-finish for a short-head success in a course record of 1m 37.21s. Ramonti returned to Ascot that September to land the Group One Queen Elizabeth II Stakes.

The 2005 renewal, run at York, saw French raider Valixir, trained by Andre Fabre, get the better of hot favourite Rakti by a length and a half while the Aidan O'Brien-trained Ad Valorem survived a stewards' enquiry in 2006. O'Brien was once again on top in 2008 as the imposing former Australian star Haradasun, twice a Group One winner in his native land, proved redoubtable in holding the French filly Darjina by a head in a pulsating battle to the line.

Paco Boy took the spoils in 2009, clinching the prize in fine style and the Richard Hannon-trained colt was unlucky to line up against French wonder mare Goldikova the following year. Freddy Head's outstanding miler proved a neck too strong for the Paco Boy before going on to record an unprecedented third victory in the Grade One Breeders' Cup Mile.

Goldikova returned to Royal Ascot for another crack at the Queen Anne Stakes last year but she could not repel the challenge of Canford Cliffs and went down by a length to the four-year-old, whose trainer Richard Hannon was gaining revenge for Paco Boy's defeat 12 months earlier. Canford Cliffs was recording a third successive victory at Royal Ascot, having annexed the Coventry Stakes as a juvenile and the St James's Palace Stakes during his three-year-old campaign.

A FULL HISTORY OF THE KING'S STAND STAKES

Bad weather played a crucial role in the origins of the King's Stand Stakes. In 1860 heavy rain made it impossible for the two-mile Royal Stand Plate to take place so the race was renamed the Queen's Stand Plate and run over five furlongs, the only raceable part of the course. With the accession of King Edward VII in 1901, the race was renamed the King's Stand but curiously did not revert to its original name when the present monarch Queen Elizabeth II came to the throne in 1952.

The contest soon became the most important sprint of the Royal Meeting, with dual winners Sundridge (1903 and 1904) and Foresight (1908 and 1909) proving to be outstanding performers. Hornet's Beauty, successful in 1911 and 1913, was another of the great victors, having triumphed in the Trial Stakes and the Fern Hill Stakes as well as the King's Stand at the 1911 Royal Meeting. Other notable winners of the King's Stand Stakes include 1,000 Guineas heroine Diadem, successful in 1919 and 1920, and 2,000 Guineas victor Tetratema, who captured the sprint in 1921.

Gold Bridge was arguably the finest winner in the inter-war years as the Major Vandy Beatty-trained colt triumphed in the King's Stand in 1933 and 1934 and was also successful in the Granville Stakes at Ascot plus the Nunthorpe Stakes at York.

Abernant proved to be another outstanding winner in 1949. The grey colt had made all to take the previous season's Chesham Stakes at the Royal Meeting and was just touched off in the 2,000 Guineas earlier in the year. Trained by Noel Murless, Abernant went on to win the King George Stakes at Goodwood and Nunthorpe Stakes at York two years running and was just denied by Tangle in the 1950 King's Stand Stakes. The 1957 King's Stand victor Right Boy was a terrific sprinter, winning 16 races in a glittering career which included dual successes in what is now the Diamond Jubilee Stakes (formerly the Golden Jubilee and before that the Cork & Orrery), the July Cup and the Nunthorpe Stakes. Song took the 1969 King's Stand Stakes as a three-year-old by an impressive two and a half lengths, despite meeting trouble in running.

The 1978 winner Solinus had a magnificent race record, winning eight of his 10 starts, including the Coventry Stakes at Royal Ascot as a two-year-old. Trained by the great Vincent O'Brien, the colt became the fourth horse since the York's Nunthorpe Stakes was first staged in 1922 to land the King's Stand, the July Cup and the Nunthorpe Stakes in the same year, emulating the Mick Easterby-trained Lochnager two years earlier. Top-class filly Marwell won 10 races from 13 starts, including the 1981 King's Stand. She took the King's Stand by two lengths before success in the July Cup and the Prix de l'Abbaye at Longchamp, while Never So Bold became the fifth horse to win the King's Stand Stakes, the July Cup and the Nunthorpe in the same season in 1985.

One of the greatest-ever sprinters, Dayjur won the 1991 King's Stand Stakes and followed up by setting a course record in the Nunthorpe before victories in the Haydock Sprint Cup and the Prix de l'Abbaye. Elbio became the first horse since Gold Bridge to win two King's Stand Stakes in 1993, while another six-year-old, the exceptional mare Lochsong, took the King's Stand Stakes the following year en route to a second successive Prix de l'Abbaye.

Pivotal, who has become an outstanding sire, captured the 1996 King's Stand Stakes and became trainer Sir Mark Prescott's first Group One winner when winning the Nunthorpe Stakes by a short-head on his final start.

The King's Stand was switched to the first day of Royal Ascot in 2000, having been previously run on the Friday, and attracted a record field of 23. Nuclear Debate, trained in France by John Hammond, came with a late surge to deny the Japanese-trained Agnes World, and the gelding's status as a top sprinter was confirmed with victory in the Nunthorpe Stakes.

Choisir became the first Australian-trained horse to win in Britain when he led from start to finish in the 2003 King's Stand Stakes. The Paul Perry-trained colt lined up in the Diamond Jubilee Stakes four days later and again made virtually all of the running to become the first horse since Stanerra in 1983 to win twice at the same Royal Meeting.

The Australians returned with a vengeance three years later when the remarkable Takeover Target, trained by former taxi driver Joe Janiak, prevailed by a short-head, with compatriots Falkirk and Glamour Puss finishing fourth and seventh respectively. The winner was fourth behind Les Arcs in the Diamond Jubilee Stakes four days later. Takeover Target came back in 2007 to defend his crown and finished a gallant fourth behind the fellow Australian-trained Miss Andretti. The Lee Freedman-trained mare shaved two and a half seconds off the track record to win in 57.44s.

The King's Stand Stakes regained Group One status for 2008, having been a Group Two since 1988, and Takeover Target returned as a nine-year-old, only to fail by half a length as the Spanish-trained Equiano caused a 22/1 shock. The Aussie machine rolled into action for a fourth time in six years as the Danny Morton-trained Scenic Blast landed the 2009 contest from Fleeting Spirit.

Equiano became the first horse since the outstanding Elbio to win two renewals of the King's Stand Stakes when he made all of the running in 2010 to triumph for his handler Barry Hills, who had taken over the training of the sprinter the year before.

Trainer Robert Cowell and Ascot-born jockey Jim Crowley both celebrated a first Royal Ascot success in 2011 as Prohibit stormed home to win by half a length. The international stature of the sprint was highlighted as five different racing jurisdictions filled the first five places with Australia (Star Witness), Hong Kong (Sweet Sanette), Hungary (Overdose) and Germany (War Artist) chasing home the Newmarket-trained winner.

A FULL HISTORY OF THE ST JAMES'S PALACE STAKES

Named after the Tudor Royal residence, the inaugural running of the St James's Palace Stakes in 1834 gave little indication of the high-quality fields that the race would later produce - while it attracted a Derby winner in Plenipotentiary, the colt was the only runner and consequently was allowed a walkover.

A host of Derby winners have gone on to win the St James's Palace Stakes over a mile in more testing contests, including British Triple Crown winners Ormonde (1886), Rock Sand (1903) and Bahram (1935). The unbeaten Ormonde was an outstanding horse. He emerged victorious in the St James's Palace Stakes and the Hardwicke Stakes at Royal Ascot on successive days, getting the better of the 1885 Derby winner Melton in the Hardwicke.

No horse has ever won all five British Classics but Sceptre nearly achieved this incredible feat in 1902, only sustaining defeat in the Derby when going to Epsom one gallop short. She also ran in the Coronation Stakes at the Royal Meeting, finishing fourth, and then the following day won the St James's Palace Stakes when ridden by an apprentice.

The Aga Khan III's Bahram was never beaten and, as well as taking the Triple Crown, he won the 1935 St James's Palace Stakes under a fine ride from Fred Fox, who had earlier partnered the son of Blandford in both the 2,000 Guineas and Derby but missed out on the St Leger due to a fall.

In the post-war period, the Epsom graduates surrendered their dominance to the emerging category of thoroughbred, the mile specialist, and the St James's Palace Stakes usually features colts that won or were placed in the English, Irish or French 2,000 Guineas. Just such a horse was Tudor Minstrel in 1947. Having won the 2,000 Guineas at Newmarket by eight lengths, prompting some to describe him as the 'horse of the century', he finished a leg-weary fourth in the Derby over an extra four furlongs. Reverting to a mile at Royal Ascot, the Fred Darling-trained three-year-old was the very easy winner.

The great Brigadier Gerard added his name to the St James's Palace Stakes roll of honour 24 years later when the race was a Group Two contest. He had earlier been successful in one of the best post-war renewals of the 2,000 Guineas that also featured Mill Reef and My Swallow. Bypassing the Derby because part-owner John Hislop did not believe that he would stay, 'The Brigadier' led close home at Royal Ascot to beat the Lester Piggott-ridden Sparkler by a head. Piggott did, however, win five St James's Palace Stakes during his long and illustrious riding career. His successes came on Roan Rocket (1964), Petingo (1968), Thatch (1973), Jaazeiro (1978) and Bairn (1985).

Despite the number of Guineas' horses taking part, no British Classic winner, over a mile or a mile and a half, triumphed in the Group One race between To-Agori-Mou, winner of the 2,000 Guineas in 1981 and the mighty Rock Of Gibraltar in 2002, also successful in the Newmarket Classic.

The St James's Palace Stakes was upgraded to Group One status in 1988 when the Geoff Huffer-trained Persian Heights prevailed.

The Alain de Royer-Dupre-trained Sendawar followed his 1999 French 2,000 Guineas success with St James's Palace glory, with the only other French-trained victor since 1946 being Kingmambo for Francois Boutin in 1993. Sendawar jointly headed the International Classifications with Dubai Millennium for three-year-olds in the seven-furlong plus category, while the 2000 winner Giant's Causeway was out on his own in the same division - 6lb ahead of his nearest rival.

Black Minnaloushe, trained like Giant's Causeway by Aidan O'Brien, took the Irish 2,000 Guineas in 2001 and then went on to success in this prestigious contest, beating Godolphin's Noverre by a neck in a thrilling finish. The 2002 hero Rock Of Gibraltar, who gave O'Brien his third consecutive victory and jockey Michael Kinane his fifth of six successes in the race, was rated the world's best racehorse in the International Classifications.

The 2005 renewal, which took place at York due to the redevelopment of Ascot, was won in decisive fashion by Godolphin's brilliant Shamardal, ridden by Kerrin McEvoy. The colt had previously won both the French 2,000 Guineas and French Derby and finished the year as the best miler of any age in Europe. The Jeremy Noseda-trained Araafa, conqueror of 2,000 Guineas hero George Washington in the Irish equivalent at the Curragh, added to that success with a commanding victory in the 2006 St James's Palace Stakes. In 2007, Excellent Art led home an Aidan O'Brien-trained 1-2-3 under a typically patient ride from Jamie Spencer.

The 2008 renewal was out of the top drawer as O'Brien's English and Irish 2,000 Guineas hero Henrythenavigator, winner of the 2007 Coventry Stakes, held the John Gosden-trained Raven's Pass by three quarters of a length. O'Brien's charge saw his superiority reduced to a head in the Sussex Stakes at Goodwood next time before Raven's Pass finally defeated his rival in the Queen Elizabeth II Stakes at Ascot in September. Raven's Pass crowned a brilliant season with a famous triumph over Henrythenavigator and US champion Curlin in the Breeders' Cup Classic at Santa Anita. O'Brien clinched his sixth St James's Palace Stakes victory with Irish 2,000 Guineas winner Mastercraftsman in 2009. The success marked the second time that the trainer had landed three consecutive wins in the race.

Coventry Stakes victor Canford Cliffs stayed on strongly to beat stable companion Dick Turpin in 2010 and give trainer Richard Hannon a 1-2. The winner gained stunning victories in the Coventry Stakes at Royal Ascot in 2009 and the Irish 2,000 Guineas earlier the same year. He followed up his St James's Palace win with a cosy neck verdict over Rip Van Winkle in the Sussex Stakes at Glorious Goodwood and completed a rare hat-trick of Royal Ascot wins with victory in the Queen Anne Stakes the following year.

Frankel headed to Royal Ascot last year on the back of an extraordinary six-length success in the 2000 Guineas and many expected a similarly devastating performance in the St James's Palace Stakes. Sent off a red-hot 30/100 favourite, the Sir Henry Cecil-trained colt once again displayed himself as the best of his generation, although he had to be kept up to his work to fend off the late challenge of Zoffany to prevail by three-quarters of a length.

Both Frankel and Canford Cliffs ran against each other in the Sussex Stakes at Glorious Goodwood the following month, when Frankel easily dispatched his older rival, winning by five lengths, and Khalid Abdulla's brilliant miler returned to Ascot in October to crown a superb season with another brilliant display, this time beating Excelebration by four lengths in the Queen Elizabeth II Stakes (Sponsored By QIPCO). He ended the season as the world's best horse, with an official rating of 136.

A FULL HISTORY OF THE 150TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE PRINCE OF WALES'S STAKES

The Prince of Wales's Stakes was first run at Royal Ascot in 1862, a year after the death of Prince Albert. The popular Prince of Wales (later to become King Edward VII) had taken over many of the social duties previously carried out by his mother, Queen Victoria, who continued to remain in mourning for her husband. In 2012, it will be run as the 150th Anniversary Of The Prince Of Wales's Stakes.

In the early years, it was mainly three-year-olds who competed in the race, then run over one mile and five furlongs. It was quite common for horses to run in the Prince of Wales's Stakes after having participated in one or more of the Classics.

In 1879, Wheel Of Fortune won, having previously taken both the 1,000 Guineas and the Oaks - she was said by Fred Archer to have been the best filly he ever rode. In 1897, Galtee More succeeded after having won that year's 2,000 Guineas and Derby.

In the first half of the 20th century, it generally became rarer for horses of the Classic generation to run in the Prince of Wales's Stakes. One very notable exception was the great Hyperion, who was successful in 1933, the same year that he won the Derby and St Leger.

When racing resumed at Royal Ascot in 1946 after the war, there was no Prince of Wales's Stakes because George VI was on the throne and, as he had no male heirs, there was no Prince of Wales.

The race did not take place again until 1968, a year before the current Prince of Wales's investiture in 1969, with the distance changed to 10 furlongs. The 1968 victor was the previous year's Derby winner Royal Palace.

Since 1968, the Prince of Wales's Stakes has been won by some very high-class horses - Brigadier Gerard in 1972, Mtoto in 1987 and 1988, Bosra Sham in 1997 and Dubai Millennium in 2000, when the race was upgraded to Group One status for the first time and restricted to four-year-olds and older horses.

Bosra Sham provided trainer Henry Cecil with his fifth Prince of Wales's Stakes success - following on from Lucky Wednesday (1977), Gunner B (1978), Perpendicular (1992) and Placerville (1993).

Godolphin made the race its own around the turn of the century. Following Faithful Son's victory in 1998, the Maktoum family's operation won with Dubai Millennium, took the 2001 renewal with Fantastic Light and had three in a row when Grandera was successful in tremendous style in 2002.

In 2003, Nayef, trained by Marcus Tregoning, ended the Godolphin winning streak while Rakti, runner-up in 2003, came good to score in scintillating style the following year. He returned to the course later in the season to land the Queen Elizabeth II Stakes.

The 2005 Prince Of Wales's Stakes was run at York and saw Azamour - who won the 2004 St James's Palace Stakes - score an easy length and a half victory over Ace. The following month he landed another Ascot feature, the King George VI & Queen Elizabeth Stakes, which was run at Newbury during the redevelopment.

A high-class renewal in 2006 went to the only female in the line-up, Ouija Board, one of the most talented and popular mares of recent years, who displayed a blistering turn of foot to score readily by half a length and three quarters of a length from Godolphin's Electrocutonist and Manduro. Ouija Board went on to win the Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Turf for the second time later that year before being retired.

Manduro matured into a brilliant champion the following season, becoming the first French-trained winner of the race since Admetus in 1974. Trained by Andre Fabre, Manduro justified favouritism when defeating subsequent King George VI & Queen Elizabeth Stakes and Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe winner Dylan Thomas. Manduro was rated the best horse according to the World Thoroughbred Racehorse Rankings of 2007. Dylan Thomas's trainer Aidan O'Brien added his name to the roll of honour when saddling Duke Of Marmalade to an impressive four-length victory over Phoenix Tower in 2008. O'Brien's charge returned to Ascot to win the King George VI & Queen Elizabeth Stakes on his next start when the four-year-old notched five Group One victories in a row.

Two years after Manduro, the French enjoyed another victory in 2009 when the previous year's Prix du Jockey Club hero Vision D'Etat swept from the rear to lead close home under Olivier Peslier for trainer Eric Libaud, and the Gallic domination continued in 2010 as the Andre Fabre-trained Byword beat Twice Over by half a length, giving owner Khalid Abdulla a 1-2 in the process.

Many anticipated that five-time Australian Group One winner So You Think would further enhance his reputation with victory in last year's Prince Of Wales's Stakes. But the Aidan O'Brien-trained five-year-old was collared near the line by Rewilding, who took the spoils by a neck and gave Godolphin handler Mahmood Al Zarooni a first Royal Ascot victory in the process. But tragedy struck the winner on his very next start as he broke a leg in the King George VI & Queen Elizabeth Stakes at Ascot the following month.

A FULL HISTORY OF THE GOLD CUP

Founded in 1807, the Gold Cup is one of the most prestigious races at Royal Ascot. At two miles and four furlongs, it thoroughly tests a horse's stamina but is not the longest contest of the meeting, with that accolade going to the Queen Alexandra Stakes, over two miles and six furlongs, which is the last event on the final day.

Master Jackey became the first horse to win the Gold Cup when, carrying only 6st 12lb, he beat three runners and thus collected 100 guineas in prize money for owner Mr Durand.

Jannette, who triumphed at 4/5 in 1811, was the first odds-on winner. Numerous horses have gone off at prohibitive odds since, none shorter than Gay Crusader who won at 8/100 in 1917. Because of the First World War, that Gold Cup was run at Newmarket where Gainsborough, successful the following year, also scored. Pretty Polly's defeat by Bachelor's Button in 1906 is arguably the race's greatest upset. The brilliant 1904 Oaks winner seemed to be unsettled by the sweltering conditions and a wart on her belly.

Winners of the Derby rarely run in the Gold Cup nowadays, but for much of its history, the race served as the primary objective after Epsom Classic glory. West Australian, the first winner of the Triple Crown (2,000 Guineas, Derby, St Leger), won at 4/6 in the hands of Alfred Day in 1854. The Flying Dutchman (1850), Gladiateur (1866) and Isinglass (1895) are other famous winners of both races. Ocean Swell, successful in 1945, is the last horse to have completed the Derby/Gold Cup double.

The Second World War saw the Gold Cup again transferred to Newmarket from 1941 - 44. Gordon Richards captured a hat-trick of Gold Cups in the war years with Owen Tudor (1942), Ujiji (1943) and Umiddad (1944). The 26-times champion jockey lifted the prize on two other occasions during his long and distinguished career.

Zarathustra in 1957 provided the first of 11 victories for Lester Piggott and 'the maestro' almost made the race his own throughout the 1970s. Sagaro, ridden by Piggott and trained in France by Francois Boutin, saved his best for Ascot, winning three times between 1975 and 1977.

Many horses have distinguished themselves with multiple Gold Cup wins, enhancing the race's reputation as a specialist's event. Anticipation, victorious in 1816 and then again in 1819, first achieved the feat. Bizarre, triumphant in 1824 and 1825, was the first to successfully defend the Cup.

Yeats, who was successful in 2006, 2007, 2008 and 2009, created history by becoming the first four-time winner. Le Moss (1979 & 80), Ardross (1981 & 82) and Kayf Tara (1998 & 2000) also stand out as great winners, the first two were trained by Henry Cecil, who retains particular affection for the staying event, while Kayf Tara represented Godolphin and trainer Saeed bin Suroor, also responsible for the 1996 winner Classic Cliche. Kayf Tara gained a creditable third in 1999 between his two victories.

Before Kayf Tara, Drum Taps, who helped put Frankie Dettori at the forefront of British racing, was another dual winner in 1992 and 1993.

Celeric's victory in 1997 was an outstanding performance by the horse and his jockey Pat Eddery. The five-year-old, who was trying two and a half miles for the first time, was produced with a great late run to beat Classic Cliche by three quarters of a length. Sadly, David Morley, trainer of the winner, died in January, 1998, and the gelding went on to be trained by John Dunlop.

The thrilling 1998 Gold Cup, won by Kayf Tara, had 16 runners - then the biggest field in the history of the race. The previous record was 13 in 1910, 1929, 1950, 1988 and 1997. The record was broken again in 1999 when 17 runners went to post and the John Oxx-trained colt Enzeli gave Ireland a first victory since Seamus McGrath saddled Levmoos in 1969.

Trainer Mark Johnston, successful in the 1995 Gold Cup with Double Trigger, won the race for a second time in 2001 when Royal Rebel, owned by then British Horseracing Board chairman Peter Savill, beat Persian Punch by a head in a tremendous battle. A year later another fine effort from the enigmatic Royal Rebel saw him fend off Irish challenger and favourite Vinnie Roe by a neck and become another dual scorer. Mr Dinos triumphed in good style in 2003, beating the fondly-remembered Persian Punch by six lengths, while there was a fourth success for Godolphin in 2004 with Papineau, who came home a length and a half clear of French raider Westerner.

Westerner went one better a year later, when the race took place at York, coming with a well-timed run under Olivier Peslier to deny Distinction by a neck. Westerner proved his versatility in fine style later in the season when only finding Hurricane Run too good in the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe over a mile shorter.

The great Yeats proved indefatigable in the Gold Cup and, having joined Sagaro as the only three-time winner of the race when slamming Geordieland by five lengths in 2008, he went one better by posting an unprecedented fourth success in 2009. He had defeated Geordieland by a length and a half in 2007 and saw off French challenger Reefscape to land his initial success in 2006. Yeats was in imperious form at Ascot in 2009 as he crushed Patkai and left Geordieland a distant third. The great horse earned a deserved retirement after finishing a fine third in the Prix du Cadran at Longchamp in October. His career successes also included two Goodwood Cups, a Prix Royal Oak, an Irish St Leger and a Coronation Cup.

Dermot Weld had already proved himself adept at readying stayers for the big occasions with six Irish St Legers and a pair of Melbourne Cups to his name and the Irish handler enjoyed a first success in the Gold Cup in 2010 with the progressive Rite Of Passage. The six-year-old had previously twice finished third at the Cheltenham Festival and continued his 100 per cent record on the Flat with a game neck victory over Age Of Aquarius, setting a new track record of 4m 16.92s.

Two years after Yeats, Aidan O'Brien captured a fifth Gold Cup with Fame And Glory. The five-year-old had already proved himself one of Europe's best middle-distance performers with victories in the Irish Derby and the Coronation Cup and he took the step up to two and a half miles in his stride to beat Opinion Poll by three lengths under Jamie Spencer.

A FULL HISTORY OF THE CORONATION STAKES

First run in 1840, the Coronation Stakes, the highlight of the Friday of Royal Ascot, was founded to commemorate the crowning of Queen Victoria in 1838. The mile event for three-year-olds became the fillies' equivalent of the St James's Palace Stakes and established itself as a natural progression for fillies who had run creditably in the 1,000 Guineas at Newmarket earlier in the season.

The inaugural running went to the Lord Albemarle-owned Spangle, while the first filly to complete the 1,000 Guineas/Coronation Stakes double was the Jos Dawson-trained Lady Augusta in 1863.

The Peter Purcell Gilpin-trained Pretty Polly, who was bred by her owner Major Eustace Loder, completed the same feat in 1904, but she also managed to capture the Oaks and the St Leger. She retired as the winner of 22 races from 24 starts.

The race now attracts the principal protagonists from the English, Irish and French 1,000 Guineas, although it has not always been a particularly happy hunting ground for the winners of the British fillies' Classic - Ghanaati in 2009, Attraction in 2004 and Russian Rhythm in 2003 won both contests but before that One In A Million in 1979 was the previous filly to follow up Newmarket Guineas success with a Coronation Stakes win.

Even so, Coronation Stakes winners Tolmi (1981), Al Bahathri (1985), Sonic Lady (1986), Milligram (1987), Marling (1992), Exclusive (1998) and Maids Causeway (2005) were all placed in the 1,000 Guineas.

Winners of the Irish 1,000 Guineas have fared better with recent Coronation Stakes scorers Cairn Rouge (1980), Katies (1984), Al Bahathri (1985), Sonic Lady (1986), Kooyonga (1991), Marling (1992), Ridgewood Pearl (1995), Crimplene (2000) and Attraction (2004) all taking the Curragh Classic before coming to Royal Ascot.

Ridgewood Pearl, trained by John Oxx in Ireland and ridden by Johnny Murtagh, progressed to defeat the colts in both the Prix Moulin and Breeders' Cup Mile, while Crimplene went on to complete a Group One treble for Newmarket handler Clive Brittain in the Nassau Stakes at Goodwood in August.

The mile race was promoted from Group Two status to Group One in 1988.

Rebecca Sharp became the biggest-priced winner in the distinguished history of the Coronation Stakes when obliging at 25/1 in 1997. The Anthony Oppenheimer-Geoff Wragg partnership, responsible for Rebecca Sharp, had further success in 1999 when Balisada came with a strong run to score at 16/1.

The 2001 heroine Banks Hill, trained by Andre Fabre in France, went on to win the Breeders' Cup Filly And Mare Turf at Belmont Park. The French have a fair record in the Coronation Stakes, having had eight successes since 1956 when Midget II won for owner Pierre Wertheimer and trainer Alec Head under Australian jockey Rae Johnstone.

The 2002 season saw the Michael Kinane-ridden Sophisticat give Ireland's champion trainer Aidan O'Brien his first Coronation Stakes success. The Irish roll of honour has reached 10 victories since 1962 when Paddy Prendergast saddled the Garnet Bougoure-ridden Display to win.

Russian Rhythm triumphed in 2003 for trainer Sir Michael Stoute and owner Cheveley Park Stud, who had also won with Exclusive in 1998. The Newmarket-based handler was also responsible for sending out Sonic Lady and Milligram to score in successive years in 1986 and 1987.

The 2004 race provided the Mark Johnston-trained Attraction with the third of her four Group One wins during the season under Kevin Darley.

The 2005 Coronation Stakes (run at York due to redevelopment work taking place at Ascot) had a thrilling finish as Maids Causeway gamely got the better of Karen's Capar after a fantastic duel in the closing stages.

Nannina, trained by John Gosden, put her disappointing effort on soft ground in the 1,000 Guineas at Newmarket behind her with an emphatic success in 2006, proving two lengths too good for Flashy Wings. The 2007 1,000 Guineas fifth Indian Ink gave trainer Richard Hannon, jockey Richard Hughes and owner Raymond Tooth a first Coronation Stakes victory when showing a sparkling turn of foot to leave her rivals for dead.

Lush Lashes proved something of a throw-back to the winners of the past as the versatile filly headed to Ascot after winning the 10-furlong Musidora Stakes at York and disappointing in the Oaks. She scored an impressive victory in the Coronation Stakes for trainer Jim Bolger before an unlucky run saw her finish second in the mile-and-a-quarter Nassau Stakes at Goodwood. A Yorkshire Oaks victory over a mile and a half preceded a further triumph at a mile in the Group One Matron Stakes at Leopardstown.

Ghanaati became the latest 1,000 Guineas heroine to add the Coronation Stakes to her big race wins in 2009 as the filly stormed clear of a top-class field to give trainer Barry Hills a second success in the race, while Aidan O'Brien also celebrated a second victory in 2010 as Lillie Langtry ran on well to comfortably beat fellow Irish challenger Gile Na Greine.

Last year's Coronation Stakes proved to be something of a family affair as Robert Collet sent out Immortal Verse to beat Nova Hawk, trained by his son Rodolphe. The winner subsequently claimed the notable scalp of Goldikova in the Prix Jacques Le Marois at Deauville prior to coming home third behind Frankel in the Queen Elizabeth II Stakes (Sponsored By QIPCO) on QIPCO British Champions Day at Ascot in October.

A FULL HISTORY OF THE DIAMOND JUBILEE STAKES

Royal Ascot's most prestigious sprint will be run as the Diamond Jubilee Stakes from 2012 in recognition of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II's ascension to throne in 1952. It was elevated to Group One status to celebrate the Queen's Golden Jubilee in 2002 and run as the Golden Jubilee Stakes from 2002 - 2011. Prior to 2002, the contest was run as the Cork & Orrery Stakes.

The inaugural running in 1868 of this six-furlong contest, originally named after Lord Cork, a Master of the Buckhounds, was won by a horse called Laneret, ridden by George Fordham. Royal Ascot specialist, the Harvey Leader-trained Diomedes, was successful in the 1926 renewal, having won two races including the King's Stand Stakes at the Royal Meeting the previous year.

There has been one three-time winner, Prince Charlie (1872, 1873 and 1874), and five dual winners - Lowlander (1875 and 1876), Whitefriar (1886 and 1887), Hornet's Beauty (1913 and 1914), Hamlet (1923 and 1924) and Right Boy (1958 and 1959). The latter, ridden by Lester Piggott on both occasions, was trained for his first victory by Malton-based Bill Dutton and then by his son-in-law Pat Rohan, who took over the licence following Dutton's death. Rohan and Piggott also won the 1960 race with Tin Whistle.

In 1951, the year of the Festival of Britain, Australian jockey Neville Sellwood had an amazing Royal Ascot in his first season in Britain, gaining four victories, including the Diamond Jubilee Stakes on board the Lord Sefton-owned Bob Cherry.

Many consider the late Vincent O'Brien to be the greatest racehorse trainer in the history of this illustrious sport and the Irish handler was successful on five occasions with Welsh Saint (1970), Saritamer (1974), Swingtime (1975), Thatching (1979) and College Chapel (1993). All bar Swingtime, the mount of Willie Carson, were ridden by Lester Piggott, who was 57 when winning on College Chapel, a final Royal Ascot victory for both trainer and jockey. O'Brien is the most successful trainer in the race followed by Joe Dawson, who won four of the five renewals between 1870 and 1874, and John Porter, who notched up four successes between 1884 and 1895. Among current trainers, Richard Hannon and Dermot Weld have both won the race twice.

Piggott is the most successful rider with nine successes (between 1958 and 1993), followed by Fred Archer on six (1878 to 1886), Morny Cannon (1893 to 1898), Steve Donoghue (1920 to 1935) and Willie Carson (1972 to 1996) on five wins, and Sir Gordon Richards on four (1949 to 1954). With three winners, Johnny Murtagh is the most successful current jockey.

The then 19-year-old Walter Swinburn began what was to be a memorable day for his family in 1981 by winning the Diamond Jubilee Stakes on the Reg Hollinshead-trained The Quiet Bidder. Later on the same afternoon his father, Wally, went on to take the Norfolk Stakes for Irish trainer Dermot Weld on Day Is Done. The 1989 winner Danehill, who was trained for Khalid Abdulla by Jeremy Tree, went on to win the Haydock Sprint Cup and became one of the world's top stallions. He was the perennial champion sire in Australasia and was posthumously Europe's champion sire in 2007.

Six of the last 10 winners have all gone in at double-figure prices, but the beginning of the nineties was a golden era for favourites with four 'jollies' or joint-favourites winning between 1991 and 1994. During this period, Shalford struck for Richard Hannon in 1992 and the East Everleigh-based handler gained his second success in 1999 with Bold Edge.

The 2001 renewal was won by the Roger Charlton-trained Harmonic Way who clearly loved sprinting at Royal Ascot as he was also successful in the previous year's Wokingham Stakes. The first Group One running in 2002 saw a terrific training performance by John Gosden, who nursed the fragile Malhub back to full fitness to score a 16/1 success.

Choisir, trained in Australia by Paul Perry and the mount of Johnny Murtagh, won in 2003 from Airwave to complete a remarkable double, having landed the five-furlong King's Stand Stakes on the opening day. In 2004, Fayr Jag confirmed his liking for Ascot when he followed up his success in the 2003 Wokingham Stakes by beating Crystal Castle a head.

The 2005 running at York was the second British leg of the Global Sprint Challenge and the Hong Kong raider Cape Of Good Hope, third the previous year, was victorious.

Les Arcs, a 33/1 shot, held off the late rattle of 50/1 outsider Balthazaar's Gift to score by a neck in 2006, with Australian challenger Takeover Target, victorious in the King's Stand Stakes four days earlier, a gallant third. The victory provided rookie trainer Tim Pitt with his first Group One success. Takeover Target was denied again in 2007, when the Jeremy Nosedo-trained Soldier's Tale dug deep to snatch the victory from the Australian challenger by a head.

The Aussie raider returned in 2008 and, having finished runner-up in the King's Stand Stakes earlier in the week, was sent off the 4/1 favourite. However, it was the John Best-trained Kingsgate Native, well beaten in the King's Stand Stakes on the Tuesday, who landed the spoils from War Artist, with Takeover Target a gallant fourth. The three-year-old winner had won the Group One Nunthorpe Stakes as a juvenile and was the first of his age to score since Atrif in 1996.

Having waited so long for a three-year-old victor, another came along in 2009 when the previous year's Coventry Stakes winner Art Connoisseur held on by a neck from the late thrust of American challenger Cannonball with the South African-trained 5/2 favourite J J The Jet Plane in fourth and Hong Kong sprint ace Sacred Kingdom in fifth.

Another cosmopolitan field contested the 2010 Diamond Jubilee Stakes with challengers from as far afield as the USA, Hong Kong and Australia. Starspangledbanner had already proved himself to be one of the top performers in Australia with a pair of Group One victories to his name before being shipped to Ireland in the spring of 2010 to continue his career in the hands of Aidan O'Brien. The four-year-old emulated his sire Choisir with a blistering all-the-way success under Johnny Murtagh and went on to score another pillar-to-post victory in the Group One Darley July Cup at Newmarket the following month.

Society Rock filled the runner-up spot behind Starspangledbanner in 2010 but the James Fanshawe-trained colt went one place better in 2011, beating Monsieur Chevalier by half a length, with Australian challenger Star Witness taking third to add to his second in the King's Stand Stakes five days earlier.

A FULL HISTORY OF THE ROYAL HUNT CUP

The Royal Hunt Cup is not only one of the major betting races of the season, but has also established itself as a tremendous spectacle. The inaugural running in 1843 was won decisively by Knight Of Whistle, ridden by Nat Flatman, but behind that pair raged a desperate battle for second place between Garry Owen, Epaulette and Bourra Tomacha - the judge could not split them and eventually awarded a triple dead-heat for the runner-up position.

In 1881, the Royal Ascot crowd witnessed an incredible performance by the brilliant, if temperamental, Peter. Starting as 100/30 favourite, Peter proceeded to all but pull himself up during the early stages of the race. His jockey Fred Archer displayed great horsemanship and, after a tender ride, coaxed his mount into delivering a devastating run. Peter was tailed off approaching the home turn but flew up the straight to land the spoils.

With a strong ante-post market assured, the Royal Hunt Cup has long been the subject of heavy gambles and two enormous touches were landed at the turn of the last century. Prior to the 1900 running, Royal Flush had shown form only in minor races and appeared to be out of his depth. But his trainer, Enoch Wishard, had perfected the technique of doping and was able to induce the necessary improvement. Royal Flush landed the gamble and netted a fortune for his unscrupulous American owners.

The next significant tilt at the ring was executed by the infamous Druid's Lodge Confederacy. Lally, one of the greatest horses ever trained at Druid's Lodge, was thought to be a certainty for the 1906 Derby at Epsom over a mile and a half, and was backed down to favouritism. Unable to stay the trip, he was prepared for the 1907 Royal Hunt Cup, which he won defeating Andover by half a length. In 1919, revelling in post-war relief, thousands of punters latched onto the hugely popular Irish Elegance, forcing him to start the 7/1 joint-favourite. The result was never in doubt as Irish Elegance defied a burden of 9st 11lb for a famous victory.

One of the most pulsating finishes ever seen in the Royal Hunt Cup occurred in 1954, when Chivalry defeated top-weight King Of The Tudors by a short-head. That year also marked the last time that the race was run over a trip of seven furlongs and 155yds. The course was re-aligned and a straight mile laid out in time for the 1955 meeting. In more recent times, Old Lucky (1974), backed from 12/1 into 8/1, and Tender Heart (1980), sent off second favourite at 13/2, have both landed substantial gambles. Buzzards Bay, victorious in 1982, went on to win the Queen Elizabeth II Stakes at Ascot later that season.

The colours of Her Majesty the Queen were carried to victory in 1992 when Colour Sergeant, making his seasonal debut, held off 30 rivals under David Harrison. Donna Viola's fourth in the 1996 Royal Hunt Cup was a prelude to even greater things, because she won the Grade One Yellow Ribbon Stakes at Santa Anita that November. French ace Olivier Peslier provided Reg Akehurst, in the final season of a distinguished training career, with a success in one of the few major handicaps to have previously eluded him when partnering the 16/1 shot Red Robbo to victory in 1997.

Fly To The Stars, favourite in 1998 to defy 9st 11lb, could not cope with 20/1 chance Refuse To Lose but went on to success in three Group races culminating in the Group One Lockinge Stakes at Newbury in 1999, demonstrating what a competitive race the Royal Hunt Cup is. Showboat, the runaway six-length winner in 1999, gave jockey Neil Pollard his first Royal Ascot success.

The James Bethell-trained Mine was triumphant in 2004, following up on his earlier Ascot success in that season's Victoria Cup, while the change of venue to York a year later certainly did not inconvenience the Clive Cox-trained New Seeker, who added the Royal Hunt Cup to his two wins at Ascot.

James Fanshawe, previously successful with Macadamia in 2003, captured his second Royal Hunt Cup in 2006 with Cesare, who was brought with a well-timed run by Jamie Spencer to collar Stronghold and record a neck victory. The latter's trainer John Gosden gained compensation 12 months later when he saddled Royal Oath to score a comprehensive four-length success, the biggest winning margin since Showboat's six-length victory in 1999.

Richard Hannon enjoyed his first Royal Hunt Cup victory in 2008 with 25/1 chance Mr Aviator. The well-backed 4/1 favourite Forgotten Voice, trained by Jeremy Nosedo, prevailed for owner Susan Roy, wife of the British Horseracing Authority chairman Paul, in 2009.

The application of blinkers worked the oracle on Invisible Man in 2010 as the Godolphin four-year-old scythed through the field to score under Frankie Dettori at odds of 28/1, while Walter Swinburn celebrated a first Royal Ascot as a trainer with Julienas in last year's race but retired from training at the end of the 2011 season.

A FULL HISTORY OF THE WOKINGHAM STAKES

The inaugural Wokingham took place in 1813, making it the oldest of the handicaps still run at Royal Ascot. The famous sprint is named after the market town seven miles from the Royal course.

The attraction of a handicap as a betting medium was a prime reason for the Wokingham's initial success. Pointers, the first winner, was owned by the Duke of York.

Fred Archer was riding at the top of his form at the 1878 meeting, partnering 11 winners including Trappist in the Wokingham. A dual winner during the same period was the aptly-named Wokingham, successful in 1881 and 1882.

The Wokingham Stakes of 1902 saw a first Royal Ascot success for Jack Joel, the diamond millionaire, with His Lordship. However, the race was considered a farce after the starting tape broke and 10 horses, including the favourite Vatel, did not take part. The stewards took no action as they were satisfied all horses were behind the barrier when it was released.

Jack Jarvis trained the first of many winners at the Royal meeting when Golden Orb won the Wokingham in 1920, and struck again in 1935 with Theio. A year later, Jack's brother, Basil, trained Periosteum to win the Gold Cup.

Sam Armstrong, whose father had won the 1888 Ascot Stakes with Dan Dancer, trained Bold Ben to win the Wokingham in 1938 from his Middleham base. He was later responsible for the tutelage of Willie Carson.

Irish punters took some £50,000 out of the betting ring in 1946 when The Bug won the Wokingham at 7/1. A notable feature of the Royal meeting in 1949 was seven wins for Gordon Richards, with three provided by trainer Noel Murless including The Cobbler, who defied the burden of top-weight and 34 rivals in the Wokingham.

Backers were left empty-handed in 1955 when a widespread gamble from 8/1 to 4/1 concerning Aberlady, runner-up to Meld in the 1000 Guineas, failed to come off. In 1969, at the age of 17, Pat Eddery rode his initial Royal Ascot winner in the Wokingham, claiming 7lb on Sky Rocket, just two months after riding his first winner.

A record weight of 10st was carried by the Robert Sangster-owned Boone's Cabin when winning the Wokingham in 1975 under Lester Piggott, who rode eight winners from 22 rides at the Royal meeting that year.

Astrac, successful at 14/1 in 1995, provided the 'handicap king', trainer Reg Akehurst, with a first Wokingham Stakes. The win came 22 years after Akehurst's first Royal Ascot success - Doleswood in the 1973 Coventry Stakes.

A massive gamble on the Michael Tabor-owned Danetime, who started 7/1 favourite, narrowly failed in 1997 when the three-year-old, ridden by American jockey Gary Stevens, was beaten a head by Selhurstpark Flyer, who a year later became the first horse since Concerto (1932 and 1933) to win the Wokingham Stakes twice.

The 2000 renewal was won by the Roger Charlton-trained Harmonic Way, who was given an excellent tactical ride by Richard Hughes to come from last to first to score by a length, while the 2001 winner Nice One Clare gave the late Pip Payne his first Royal Ascot success. The quality of the Wokingham was emphasised when the Mukaddamah mare returned to Ascot in September to land the Group Two Diadem Stakes.

In the 2002 season, the Wokingham moved to the Saturday of Royal Ascot and fell to Capricho, trained by John Akehurst whose father Reg had been successful with Astrac in 1995. The following year saw a dead-heat between Fayr Jag and Ratio, who set a new record time of 1m 12.18s for Ascot's six furlongs between them. It was the first dead-heat at Royal Ascot since 1994.

The Yorkshire-based sprint specialist David Nicholls recorded his first Royal Ascot success when 6/1 favourite Lafi took the spoils in 2004, while the 2005 victor at York was Iffraaj. He went off a red-hot 9/4 favourite and won by two lengths for trainer Michael Jarvis and jockey Philip Robinson.

Baltic King turned in a cracking effort to land the 2006 running under 9st 10lb, showing a tremendous burst of speed to settle matters inside the final furlong, scoring by a length and a half from Firenze.

Dark Missile, who had this race as a target for some time, landed the spoils in 2007 at 22/1 for trainer Andrew Balding under then 5lb claimer William Buick

Scottish trainer Linda Perratt enjoyed a first Royal Ascot triumph in 2008 when Big Timer saw off the Eve Johnson Houghton-trained Beaver Patrol by half a length. The pair were separated by the width of the track with the winner drawn 28 and the runner-up starting from stall 2. In 2009, the winner, the William Haggas-trained High Standing, came from stall 28, while the runner-up Asset was drawn alongside in stall 27 and the third, Rock Of Rochelle, came from berth 25.

Laddies Poker Two had been off the racecourse for 610 days but punters certainly had faith in the five-year-old as she was heavily gambled throughout the week and was sent off a red-hot 9/2 favourite in 2010. She duly took the spoils in emphatic style, beating Striking Spirit by two and a half lengths, to give trainer Jeremy Noseda another notable handicap success at Royal Ascot following Forgotten Voice's victory in the Royal Hunt Cup 12 months earlier.

Trainer James Fanshawe enjoyed a dream 40 minutes at Royal Ascot in 2011 as Deacon Blues took the Wokingham Handicap to add to the success of Society Rock in the Diamond Jubilee Stakes just beforehand. Deacon Blues went on to record four further victories last year, culminating with a ready success in the Group Two QIPCO British Champions Series Sprint on QIPCO British Champions Day at Ascot in October.

ROYAL ASCOT RIDING LEGENDS

Lester Piggott - Royal Ascot wins: 116

Lester Piggott is undeniably one of the greatest of all jockeys and his Royal Ascot record bears that out. His first win at the meeting came in the 1952 Wokingham aboard the Walter Nightingall-trained Malka's Boy. The "Longfellow" went on to be associated with some of the greatest horses to have graced Royal Ascot. His remarkable 11 Gold Cup victories included three on the legendary Sagaro, one atop Le Moss and a brace in tandem with Ardross. At the other end of the distance spectrum, Piggott took the 1952 King's Stand Stakes on Right Boy and partnered the champion sprinter to Cork And Orrery successes in 1953 and 1954. Others of note include the imperious Petite Etoile in the 1961 Rous Memorial Stakes and St Paddy in the same year's Hardwicke Stakes. Of Piggott's 116 wins at the meeting, he rode 18 apiece for Noel Murless and Vincent O'Brien. His final Royal Ascot win came aboard the latter's College Chapel in the 1993 Cork And Orrery Stakes. Piggott rode the first winner of his career in 1948 and he is associated with a host of equine superstars, most notably Crepello, St Paddy, Sir Ivor, Park Top, Nijinsky, Rheingold, Dahlia, The Minstrel, Alleged, Commanche Run, Royal Academy and his final Classic winner, Rodrigo De Triano. He retired in 1995 with a career total of 4,493 wins that resulted in 11 jockeys' championships.

Pat Eddery - Royal Ascot Wins: 73

The Michael Pope-trained Sky Rocket gave Pat Eddery his first Royal Ascot victory in the 1969 Wokingham and his 73rd success came 33 years later on Romantic Liason in the 2002 Queen Mary Stakes. Between times, Eddery forged a reputation as one of the greatest riders of the post-war period. Champion jockey 11 times and the winner of every Classic in England and Ireland, as well as a host of major international races, Eddery is second only to Sir Gordon Richards when it comes to the total number of career wins in Britain with 4,632. Associated with a host of champions, Eddery's numerous Royal Ascot highlights include Gold Cup triumphs on Erimo Hawk (1972) and Celeric (1997). A dozen of his wins at the Royal meeting came for trainer Peter Walwyn, for whom he rode through the 1970s. Perhaps the best horse he partnered to Royal Ascot success was the brilliant champion miler, Warning. Guy Harwood's charge quickened brilliantly under Eddery to land the 1989 Queen Anne Stakes by four lengths from Reprimand. That year's Royal Ascot proved to be Eddery's finest as he partnered eight winners at the meeting including Two Timing in the Prince Of Wales's Stakes, Cacoethes in the King Edward VII Stakes and Assatis in the Hardwicke. He was also the top jockey at Royal Ascot in 1993, 1992, 1988 and 1986. After a career that encompassed victories on some of the turf's outstanding horses such as Dancing Brave, Grundy, Sadler's Wells, Reference Point, Pebbles, El Gran Senor, Zafonic and Bosra Sham, Eddery retired at the end of the 2003 Flat season and is now a trainer.

Willie Carson - Royal Ascot Wins: 56

Willie Carson's first Royal Ascot win came in 1971 when he partnered Celtic Cone to win the Ascot Stakes for his boss, the Newmarket trainer Bernard Van Cutsem. That belated first triumph at the summer showcase arrived 14 years after he began his apprenticeship with Captain Gerald Armstrong in North Yorkshire and, having broken his duck, Carson struck twice more at that year's meeting, aboard Royal Dancer in the King George V Handicap and Stubb's Gazette in the Britannia. Carson made up for a slow start to his career as he went on to partner 56 winners at Royal Ascot before retiring in 1996, the last being Atraf in that year's Cork And Orrery Stakes. Many of Carson's victories came for trainer Major Dick Hern, and the pair teamed up with The Queen for a Royal double at the 1979 meeting when Expansive took the Ribblesdale Stakes and Buttress the Queen's Vase. Carson and Hern joined together for four victories a year later headed by Ela Mana Mou in the Prince Of Wales's Stakes, while Little Wolf (1983) and Longboat (1986) took the Gold Cup for the Carson/Hern partnership. 1983 saw Carson notch his largest Royal Ascot total with five winners at the four-day meeting. In the latter part of his career, the Scotsman enjoyed a fruitful retainer with Hamdan Al Maktoum and he rode the owner's Marju to win in the 1991 St James's Palace Stakes and Lahib to success in the 1992 Queen Anne Stakes, while Muhtarram landed back-to-back wins in the Prince Of Wales's Stakes (1994 & 1995). Perhaps Carson's greatest Royal Ascot winner was Dayjur, imperious in the 1990 King's Stand Stakes for Sheikh Hamdan and Hern. Other notable victories came aboard Habibti (1984) and Chilibang (1988) in the King's Stand, and Danehill in the 1989 Cork And Orrery. Sadeem provided Carson with a third Gold Cup triumph in 1989. The five-time champion jockey retired in 1996 with 17 British Classic wins and 3,828 career wins on the board. Carson, who famously also rode the likes of Nashwan, Troy, High Top, Salsabil, Dunfermline, Sun Princess and Known Fact in a stellar career, remains a fixture at Royal Ascot in his role as BBC TV pundit, alongside Clare Balding.

Steve Cauthen - Royal Ascot wins: 38

A teenage riding sensation in America, Steve Cauthen became the youngest jockey to win the US Triple Crown when taking all three legs aboard Affirmed in 1978 at the age of 18. Rising weight prompted a move to Britain in 1979 and Cauthen went on to be UK champion jockey on three occasions. Cauthen rode 38 Royal Ascot winners in a little more than a decade, following his first victory at the meeting on the Barry Hills-trained Prince Of Hush in the 1982 Prince Of Wales's Stakes. He landed the Gold Cup for Hills aboard Gildoran in 1984 but it was as number one rider for Henry Cecil that Cauthen enjoyed his greatest period of success. In 1987, the year that he partnered Cecil's Reference Point to Derby victory, Cauthen, rode seven winners at the Royal meeting, his best numerical haul. Two years later he went close to matching that feat as he rode six winners, including Indian Ridge in the King's Stand Stakes. Among his five victories in 1990 were Shavian in the St James's Palace Stakes and Chimes of Freedom in the Coronation Stakes. His last Royal Ascot triumph came on the Peter Makin-trained Elbio in the 1991 King's Stand Stakes, the same year that he won the Prince Of Wales's Stakes aboard his patron Sheikh Mohammed's Stagecraft. He was leading rider at Royal Ascot on four occasions. Aside from those already mentioned, the Kentucky native's career is synonymous with superstars such as Oh So Sharp, Pebbles, Slip Anchor, Indian Skimmer, Old Vic, Diminuendo and In The Groove. Cauthen retired from race riding at the end of 1992 with 2,794 career victories and returned to his Kentucky home.

Kevin Darley - Royal Ascot wins: 16

Attraction provided Kevin Darley with his finest Royal Ascot moments. The brilliant filly blazed to a three-length triumph in the 2003 Queen Mary Stakes and impressively added the following year's Coronation Stakes. The first of Darley's 16 Royal Ascot wins came aboard the John Dunlop-trained Emerging Market in the 1996 Wokingham and his last was on Linas Selection in the 2006 King George V Handicap. Other highlights include Zindabad's 2002 Hardwicke Stakes and Observatory's triumph in the Jersey Stakes of 2000. He landed the Queen's Vase on four occasions, each time for trainer Mark Johnston. Darley was champion apprentice in 1978 but his stock rose markedly after partnering the outstanding champion two-year-old and 1995 Prix du Jockey Club hero Celtic Swing. He was champion jockey in 2000 and retired from race riding at the end of the 2007 season. Also among the best horses he rode in his career are Shamardal and High Chaparral, both of whom he partnered to Group One triumphs during their juvenile campaigns.
